EDITORIAL BRIEFS.

CLEVELAND his own Burchard: "Return the Rebel Rags!"

CHICAGO has convicted two boodlers. That's an encouraging sign.

LORD TENNYSON is suffering with gout His poetry took the disease first.

GOVERNOR HILL: "How lucky that I had no old flags to give away."

THERE was a parade of 20,000 of Henry George's followers in New York City on Saturday evening.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND attributes to Aujt. General Drum the odium for the Rebel flag order. He had to drum up some excuse.

THE train robbers in Texas seem to make it about as hazardous to travel in that region as it would be for a man to go into the grain trade at Chicago.

A LADY, high born and prominently connected, was kidnapped in Paris the other day. It is dangerous for ladies to live in some of the foreign cities.

IT is impossible to tell anything about James G. Blaine's health. One account says he was never in better physical condition, while another says he looks very pale.

IT is suggested that the next time President Cleveland goes a fishing he take with him a copy of the Revised Statutes of the United States to study in the fly-fishing and fly-biting time.

THE tenor of the French dispatches is that Boulanger's return to the War Department is only a question of time. He is as popular as ever and would return to-morrow only for President Grevy.

AND now it appears that the kidnapped Countess Campos of Paris assisted her kidnappers. This seems to demonstrate the lady's genius for a dramatic career; and we may as well prepare to welcome her to the American stage next year.

AT Valley Forge on Saturday a great demonstration was held by the Patriotic Sons of America in honor of the 109th anniversary of the departure of Washington and the continental army from that historic spot. About 30,000 people were present.

THE fact that a passenger train was on Friday last hauled from Altoona to Pittsburgh, arriving at its destination on time, without the use of a pound of coal, crude oil being used as a substitute, indicates that we are to have some radical new departures in railroading before long.

SOME people are endeavoring to bring out Robert T. Lincoln as a candidate for the republican nomination for the presidency, but Robert says he is not in the field. Perhaps he realizes that a boom which begins a year before the meeting of the national convention is in danger of a collapse.

THAT the Panama canal enterprise is approaching a state of collapse is certain. Vast sums have been spent, and vaster ones are needed; but the proposal made does not justify the belief that these vaster ones will suffice to even create the hope of final success. And what is more, the French engineers begin to be convinced of this.

PEOPLE had almost forgotten the murder of C. Arthur Preller, at St. Louis, by Hugh M. Brooks, alias Walter Lennox Maxwell. But it appears that the Supreme court has been examining into the trial and verdict and has confirmed the judgment of the St. Louis court in sentencing Brooks. Soon, therefore, the extreme penalty of the law will be carried out.

WE are glad that a good word can be said for Jay Gould. He has just bought and presented to the Mount Vernon Association thirty-three acres of ground near the old Washington mansion. This is a patriotic gift, and it shows that the millionaire is not without some appreciation of his country's history and of its heroes. Mr. Gould has made a good beginning, but it would be better if he did such things as this much oftener than he does.

The President's Obnoxious Order.

Last week at the time that the order came from President Cleveland to collect together the captured battle-flags in the archives at Washington City and return them to the Southern states from which they were captured our blood was at fever heat and we wrote a fiery editorial. The idea of such a thing was distasteful to us and savored of that which we term traitorous.

But the swell of indignation went up from all over the land. Cleveland at once withdrew his order. He has felt the indignation of a patriotic people and he will henceforth be more cautious. Hence, we will not express the indignation we feel. Words are inadequate to do that. But we have this to affirm: No act which has been done or word uttered since the war is more calculated to inflame the passions of the North against the South. Long ago the rebellious states were forgiven. What they did cannot be forgotten while a soldier survives. And to attempt to undo the results of that conflict is unfortunate in the extreme. Such a measure would never have been thought of had an individual possessing a semblance of statesmenship been in the White House.

Those flags are the property, by right, of the commands which captured them. The generosity of the people and their love for and devotion to the government placed them in the National Capital. They are dear to every loyal heart, because they are blood-bought treasures. To thus place them in the National capital was going halfway in the act of reconciliation. It is the last step that patrotism could take. Therefore, the suggestion that they should be restored to rebels—some of whom are still unrepentent—was obnoxious not only to Republicans but to many Democrats. The Grand Army thundered an emphatic "No." Governor Foraker, of Ohio, uttered a noble protest. The order was withdrawn.

Besides, as has been brought out by a discussion of the question, the President exceeded his authority. He had no legal right to promulgate such an order. It seems to us that Cleveland, in all his actions, evinces hatred of the soldier. We cannot imagine why this is. True, he was not in the army, but he should respect those who fought for him while he remained at home and escaped being wounded. Even if he paid a substitute in cash that action should not have eradicated all his feelings of patriotism. He still has claims on his country and that country has a few claims on him. This order is on a par with his veto of all the pension bills, public and private, and expresses precisely the same sentiments.

The Day We Celebrate.

The small boy—if no one else—will remind us often that the Fourth of July is almost here. It is quite certain that there will be no special celebration of the day in Bellefonte. In many parts of the State, however, the observance of the great event is to be more extensive than it has been before for many years. It is the fashion, this year, to have what is termed an "old fashioned celebration." In accordance with the prevailing mania for the antique, as it were.

We are pleased to see this revival of a genuine celebration. We never approved of the modern Fourth of July, which stopped all this ebullition of patriotism. It was caused by the great fire on that day in Portland, Me., and by numerous minor conflagrations, supposed to have originated from the patriotic firecracker. Now, it was a question with prudent men whether the property should be allowed to burn occasionally or that all fires of patriotism should be suppressed in the breasts of the young. We are sorry to say that the latter course was adopted.

But this year the fire cracker will have full sweep. We hope that the toy pistol will not also be revived. It was not an adjunct of the old-time Fourth, and is of no use except to blow off boys' fingers or to blow out their eyes. A general explosion of fireworks should take place in the evening. Not those private displays that can be seen only by a select few, but a general one which an entire community can witness.

WOULD any proposition to restore the captured rebel flags to the Southern States have been entertained with Lincoln, or Grant, or Garfield as President? They were good friends of the Southern people, but they were very different men from Grover Cleveland.

Washington Waifs.

It would seem from the late report of the grand jury of the District of Columbia that great numbers of the Government employes are threatened with danger more disastrous than dismissal from office. Says the report: "We have taken testimony as to the condition of the different Government buildings in this city, and find that the Treasury Department, and Post Office Department, buildings are in a bad sanitary condition, owing, principally, to the defective manner in which the sewers and sewer connections in them are constructed. From this cause the health and lives of those who occupy these buildings are endangered. If such buildings were kept in such a condition by a private individual he would be liable to indictment for maintaining a nuisance. We recommend that Congress be requested to provide a remedy for this great evil." The report pronounces the Government Printing Office a veritable fire trap. There are two wooden stair-ways, and only one of them extends above the second floor, which in case of fire, would make the danger to life very great to those on third and fourth floors, particularly when you remember that most of them are female. Not over three-fourths of the employes could use the present fire escapes.

The colored people of the city were greatly enthusiastic and gratified the other night by President Cleveland distributing diplomas to the graduating class of their High School, which was a graceful act.

The people of the city and District have long been restless under disfranchisement, feeling quite naturally that as citizens of the United States they should have the same privileges as other citizens of the States. They have not only been denied the right to vote but are also deprived of "home rule," many of the most important local offices being filled by non-residents of the District. There is a committee of one hundred whose duty it is to agitate these questions; and it is earnestly hoped that they will ultimately accomplish the object desired, although the prospect of securing such results is not the most flattering.

The knowing ones declare that the President is casting about for new material for his Cabinet, he having determined to promote Secretary Lamar to the Supreme Bench vacancy. As it is certain that a Southerner will fill the place, we are sure Mr. Lamar would be far more acceptable generally than any other man from that section, for he is brilliant, conservative, and progressive.

We learn that Speaker Carlisle will come to the Capitol next month for the purpose of holding a conference with the President and Secretary Fairchild as to the advisability of calling an extra session of Congress. The general opinion of those who are best informed is that the Democrats will avoid an extra session unless they conclude that it is imperatively necessary both for the relief of the country from financial trouble and the salvation of the Democracy.

The Status of Organized Labor.

There is no one who more truly sympathises with labor than the writer. There is no one who more earnestly believes that labor should be thoroughly organized. Any one who contents that labor has no right to organize needs a reorganization of his mental faculties.

But the truth seems to be that labor has never been and is not now properly organized. The outlook at present is not very favorable. We notice with regret the announcement of Mr. Terrence V. Powderly not again to be a candidate for the position of Master Workman. His leadership has recommended itself to the judgment of all conservative men. His resolution not to have anything to do with anarchists and others whose methods are distructive was adhered to loyally.

We also read with impatience of the dissensions among the separate organizations of labor. This is the most unfavorable characteristic of the present status of labor. It is very true that a house divided against itself must fall, and therefore it seems to us the greatest of folly for the labor organizations to disagree. They should unite in whatever is to be done.

The Amalgamated Association, at its last meeting, adopted resolutions which seem to imply that it regards the Knights of Labor as an enemy. Of course, we do not understand the grievances between the two organizations, but there should be none. Any earnest friend of labor who has influence in either organization will do what he can to heal differences that exist. Divided, labor will never be able to do anything for its elevation and improvement. Properly united and with determined purpose it can do everything.

Laboring men, let rectitude of purpose and common sense govern your deliberations.

THE Illinois Legislature has passed a law which is intended for the special treatment of Anarchist murderers. Here is one of its provisions: "If two or more persons conspire to overthrow the existing order of society or bring about local revolution by force or attempt to overcome the legal authorities of the State and a human being is killed, all persons engaged in such conspiracy and seeking to carry into effect their common desire shall be deemed guilty of the crime committed and shall be punished according to the laws regulating the commission of said crime." This explicit statutory pro- will obviate all controversey concerning the legal responsibility of the accessory; and, as if to impress this point, the law declares it will not be necessary to prove that the conspirators entered into a definite agreement. "It shall be sufficient if it appears that the parties charged were actually pursuing in concert the unlawful purpose, whether acting separately or together, provided that the acts of each were knowingly tending to the same unlawful result." Chicago has been annoyed by the persistence of the Haymarket murderers in supporting their appeal in the higher court, and the State seems determined that another batch of foreign fanatics shall have no such opportunities as Captain Black, of the counsel for defense, has been able to use. The law is severe, as it should be, and other States could well profit by such an example. New York has immediate need for such a law, and New Jersey will soon be drive nto the same extremity if her groves and watering places are to be used for murderous picnic parties.

THE surviving "War Governors" of the States that did not secede are to hold a reunion at St. Louis during the Grand Army encampment next September. There are not many of them. The following is a list nearly completed: John G. Downey, California; Leland Standford, California; F. F. Low, California; Samuel J. Kirkwood, Iowa; William M. Stone, Iowa; Richard J. Oglesby, Illinois; Charles Robinson, Kansas; Thomas Carney, Kansas; Samuel J. Crawford, Kansas; Alex. Ramsey, Minnesota; Austin Blair, Michigan; Henry H. Crapo, Michigan; Augustus W. Bradford, Maryland; Alvin Saunders, Nebraska; Nathaniel S. Berry, New Hampshire; Joel Parker, New Jersey; Andrew G. Curtin, Pennsylvania; William Sprague, Rhode Island; James Y. Smith, Rhode Island; Edward Salamon, Wisconsin; J. T. Lewis, Wisconsin. The term "War Governor," as generally used, applies to all who were the chief executive of a loyal State between April, 1861, and April, 1865.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., has a citizen who is attracting attention because of his acquirements, his occupation and his wife. As to his acquirements, he was educated at Baltimore and was a classmate of J. Wilkes Booth. Failing in his chosen profession—that of an actor—he went to Beaver Falls and began the work of blacksmithing. Although a good workman, he was too melancholy to render his work a success, and his wife came to his assistance. She was cheerful even in misfortune. Taking part with him in his work at the forge and bellows, her presence and assistance cheer him greatly. She has also cultivated a half acre of ground until it is the most productive spot in that locality. At least, this is the story told in the newspapers and we are also informed that this couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Murray—a very ordinary name even if there is so much that is extraordinary about them.

A FELLOW named Casper Strumback, at Imka, Illinois, has confessed to be the murderer of the girl whose body was found at Rahway, N. J., under such mysterious circumstances. The trouble is that Casper is the third individual who has confessed to this murder. It is strange that men would make such a confession when not guilty, but perhaps it is but another instance of an individual seeking notoriety. It is suggested that people become disgusted with the incapacity of the Rahway detectives and make such confessions merely to keep the detectives from falling asleep.

A Great Evil.

So many crimes are committed in various parts of Pennsylvania as to prove startling. A thoughtful person must be concerned in regard to this increase in crime and will naturally inquire the reason for it. He will also notice that Centre county is favored in being almost entirely exempt from such occurrences, and this may suggest to him one important cause.

We are sorry to say it, but we believe that much of the crime of the present day is caused by sensational newspapers—papers that give in full all the details of crimes throughout the world. The reading of such things hardens the heart and leads the reader to regard horrid crimes as only ordinary occurrences. To such a reader the crime loses its hatefulness, and he is led to believe that it is not so very bad anyway.

There are no such papers in Bellefonte, though several of them come here, especially on Saturday, and are read by thousands. So many men and women who have some claims to respectability purchase and read these papers, that one is lost in amazement. What will the harvest be? In other places it is resulting in a fearful record of evil deeds. Our community cannot hope to escape entirely.

There have been startling instances in Bellefonte of men beginning a life of crime, the first beginnings of which can be traced directly to the pernicious literature which was perused. We can mention names, but that would not be pleasant to relatives.

What can be done? The answer is easy. So much is said about the extermination of strong drink, and the difficulties in the road to that are very great. Evil literature is worse in its effects and can be much more easily banished. It has not yet obtained the grasp upon the people that whiskey has, and they would feel its deprivation much less.

Why not stamp out the sensational paper, of which the Sunday paper is usually an exponent? Remember that such reading is sapping the life and morals of the young, and is depraving people of all ages. Do not have anything to do with a merely sensational publication.

A VERY great commotion was caused about a balloon sent up from St. Louis by the New York World. Previous announcements were made of the event, and it was supposed that this balloon was to move eastward over the entire country. After several ineffectual attempts it started, and then notices appeared even in the eastern papers for people to look out for messages from the clouds as they might have come from the balloon. But the next ticks of the telegraph brought the announcement that the balloon went a distance of only forty-seven miles and a height of 16,000 feet and then descended to the ground and the occupants alighted. While the occupants refused to give their names they said their trip had been successful in a scientific view, and the excuse for their early descent was that one of the men had injured his hand. From this distance the aerial flight looks like an advertising dodge for the New York World. Considering the furore made over it the ascent seems to be a flat failure, and not at all creditable to the newspaper which originated it.

IT has been alleged that ex-Secretary Lincoln, while in President Arthur's Cabinet, favored the restoration of the rebel flags to the Southern States. The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "Mr. Lincoln, when his attention was called to the statement yesterday, denied it explicitly and emphatically. He never made such a recommendation and never thought of such a thing. The matter was never discussed in Cabinet, and views favorable to the proposition were not entertained by any of the Cabinet or by the President. The theory of government held by Mr. Lincoln and the other members of President Arthur's Cabinent made it impossible for them to entertain or suggest such a proposition." It will not do to attempt to rob President Cleveland of the honor of devising the scheme for giving back the flags and securing Southern votes. He alone is entitled to it.

GENERAL NOTES.

Bunker Hill Day was observed as usual at Boston on Friday.

Bernhardt, her manager and company sailed from New York on Saturday.

Six new cases of small pox were on Sunday found at San Francisco, all being children.

Forty-six delegates met at Lagrange, Ky., on Friday and organized the Union Labor party.

A Kent county, Mich., man, aged 60, who is a grandfather, has just heen admitted to the bar.

The editor of the Plum Creek (Neb.) Gazette has but one arm and one leg, and has just broken the arm.

Ex-Queen Isabella of Spain is in Paris and the newspaper gossips say she spends at the rate of $600,000 a year.

The heat is so intense in Washington that the President says he will make a trip to the mountains in July.

Tolls on grain passing through the Welland canal have been removed by order of the Canadian Government.

The Albany Argus doesn't think there will be more than one-third the average crop of hops in that vicinity this year.

The will of the late Jesse Hoyt, of New York, who left several million dollars, is sustained by the Supreme Court.

George W. Childs offers to place a Longfellow window in Memorial Hall at Harvard College, to cost not less than $10,000.

Frederick Morgan was hanged at Louisville, Ga., on Friday, for murdering a woman, Emma Lewis. Both were colored.

Up to the present date eighty-two newspapers of Texas favor prohibition, while but twenty-one have taken the other side.

Bismarck has the rheumatism and Boulanger is no longer a Minister of War. The peace prospects of Europe are brightening.

Mrs. Helen Campbell is planning to visit England in order to make social studies of the working woman in the east end of London.

The Globe carbon-works at Cleveland, O., were destroyed by fire last Friday. The loss will reach $25,000, and is almost covered by insurance.

Samuel Myers, Superintendent of the Miami (Indiana) County Asylum for the Poor, has been arrested on the charge of cruelly mal-treating female inmates.

There are 3,362 applications for the 12 clerkships on the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the Commissioners don't know that they need any clerks.

Manuel Noel, an aged French Canadian, residing at Laconia, N. H., feasted upon a pound of raw beefsteak on Wednesday and died within half an hour.

The British ship Loch Broom arrived at Philadelphia late Saturday evening from Bombay with 2,900 tons of iron rails, after a remarkably fine passage.

Prof. W. P. Jenks, of Brown University, has returned from five months of research in Florida with important acquisitions for the Museum of Natural History.

Asbury Park, N. J., has a new beach Superintendent, her ex-postmaster, whose duty it will be to see that indecorous bathing costumes shall not be worn during the season.

A robin has built her nest in the mouth of one of the Parrott guns that ornament the burial plot of the Maquoketa (Ia.) Grand Army Post—a picture of peace of peace which it would be difficult to improve upon.

A gooseberry bush is growing amazingly 15 feet from the ground in the forks of a large elm tree at Newton, N. J. It is now two feet in height and supposed to be the product of a seed deposited there by birds.

A pair of swallows have built a nest in one of the electric lights at Oshkosh, Wis., and have hatched six young ones. The nest is directly under the bowl which is placed over the light, and but a few inches from the light.

Twenty-eight unmarried women reside in Garfield county, Colorado; also 1,100 unmarried men. All the men can't get a wife from among the 28, and it probably puzzles the women to make a choice from among the thousand.

John Tobin knelt down in Broadway New York, on Wednesday, and, after a fervent prayer to God "to save New York from the politicians," was taken in charge by an officer, given a hearing and remanded for a medical examination.

The editor of Land and Water has succeeded in inducing M. Pasteur to undertake an investigation into the cause of grouse disease, and asks those interested to co-operate with him in obtaining for the French savant the necessary specimens.

A well-known New York physician recently said: "I vaccinate infants when they are six weeks old. Until an infant is vaccinated I do not allow it to go out into the air. There is more small pox in this city than people imagine, but the fact is kept quiet."

The Toronto Globe remarks that "so far there is no official explanation of the reasons why American oleomargarine transmutes itself into soap-grease as soon as it gets into a Canadian custom house, and from soap-grease into butter as soon as it gets out again."

London photographers encourage the idea of American women being presented at court. Every woman immediately has her picture taken in court costume to send home to her dear 500 friends. The photographers are growing rich under this new dispensation.

Poetry.

"THE HORSEMAN."

Who is it rides with whip and spur—
Or madman, or King's messenger?

The night is near, the lights begin
To glimmer from the roadside inn.

And o'er the moorland, waste and wide,
The mists behind the horseman ride.

"Ho, there within—a stirrup cup!
No time have I to sleep or sup.

"An honest cup!—and mingle well
The juices that have still the spell.

"To banish doubt and care, and slay
The ghosts that prowl the King's highway."

"And whither dost thou ride my friend?"
"My friend, to find the roadway's end."

His eyeballs shone, he caught and quaffed,
With scornful lips, the burning draught.

"Yea, friend, I ride to prove my life;
If there be guerdon worth the strife—

"If after loss, and after gain,
And after bliss and after pain,

"There be no deeper draught than this—
No sharper pain—no sweeter bliss—

"Nor anything which yet I crave
This side, or yet beyond, the grave—

"All this, all this I ride to know;
So pledge me, Graybeard, ere I go."

"But gold thou hast, and youth is time,
And on thy breast the blazoned sign.

"Of honor—yea, and Love hath bound
With rose and leaf thy temples round.

"With youth, and name and wealth and store,
And woman's love, what wilt thou more?"

"What more?" "What more?" thou graybeard wight?
That something yet—that one delight—

"To know! to know!—although it be
To know but endless misery!—

"The something that doth beckon still,
Beyond the plain, beyond the hill,

"Beyond the moon, beyond the sun,
Where yonder shining coursers run.

"Farewell! Where'er the pathway tread,
I ride, I ride, to find the end!"

Our Story Teller

PORK AND BEANS.

The Wheeler family were a little put out when Great-aunt Betsey died, at the age of ninety-nine years. And really, when one came to think of it, it was inconsiderate of her.

"It would have been some credit," said Mrs. Peck Wheeler, "to have had a centenarian in the family. Oh yes, I know she was a great trial! but it's too provoking to think that she couldn't have lived just eleven months longer. Then we could have had it put in the paper, and everybody would have been asking questions. I don't know that there's a soul in Bundleton County that is a hundred years old—no, nor anywhere near it."

But there was no help for it.

Great-aunt Betsey never had been one who considered other people's wishes and convenience, and her death was correspondent to her life.

"If she'd only swallered that bad dose of medicine, she might have lived," said Mrs. Wheeler. "But she was that set in her way she was determined to die! And she ground her lips together, and turned her face away, and me standing there with the best silver spoon, all ready!"

"I s'pose she's left a snug sum?" said Mrs. Bidwell, whose moon-like spectacles expressed a whole dictionary full of interrogation points.

"Not a cent!" said Mrs. Wheeler.

"Land o Goshen!" said Mrs. Bidwell, holding up both hands. "And she such a savin' creeter all her life, too!"

"Well, you know she lost consid'able when the Bundleton Bank failed," said Mrs. Wheeler; "though she never would own how much. And me and Peck we kind o' mistrusted she'd been helpin' to build that meetin'-house on Scraggy Hill, and sendin' money to Louisy Jane and her miserable, shiftless husband out in Dakota Territory. There ain't no accountin' for the whims of folks in their dotage. We've looked through all her things, and there ain't nothin' to be found but a lot of the oldest-fashioned duds you ever sot eyes on. I shall keep out some of the old silks for my crazy-quilt, and sell the rest to the first ragman that comes along."

"I always reckoned," said Mrs. Bidwell that there would something be found in that old red chest o' hern, with the secret drawer, and the little three cornered till.

Mrs. Wheeler shook her head.

"No," said she; "there wasn't nothing there but a string of gold beads, worn as thin as cobwebs, and a set of lynx furs, all eat up by the moths."

"Well I am astonished!" said Mrs. Bidwell.

"The longer I live," oracularly spoke Mrs. Wheeler, "the more I realize there ain't nothin' too strange to happen."

"That's as true as Gospel!" sighed Mrs. Bidwell. "And I hope the Lord 'll reward you, Sister Wheeler, for all your kindness to that poor creetur that's gone!"

So she gathered up her silk work-bag, her spectacles and her knitting needles, and trudged away to tell all the neighbors how shamefully Peck Wheeler's wife had abused her husband's Great-aunt Betsey, forcing medicine down her throat with a silver spoon, when she was at her last gasp and traducing her memory because she had not been able to leave a fortune behind her.

"And she a professin' member, too," said Mrs. Bidwell, rolling up her eyes. "Well, well, I hope it may be a lesson to us all, not to be over puffed-up with godliness."

Which was rather peculiar logic, but eminently characteristic of the Mrs. Bidwells of this world.

While Mrs. Wheeler, who really had been very kind to the poor old lady who had so nearly attained to the dignity of a centenarian, and who had conscientiously done her best to take care of her, went about her housework with a sigh.

She had always yearned for a centenarian in the family, and now the nearest aspirant to that honor was her Cousin Reuben Crane, who was eighty-seven, and asthmatic at that.

Mr. Wheeler came in early from his farm work that day.

"O, I declare to goodness, mother, I forgot!" said he. "Drusilla wanted to borrow a few white beans. Old Mrs. Jenkins is coming there to live, and she sets a deal of store by baked pork and beans."

"Well, I never!" said Mrs. Wheeler, who was vigorously setting the table, rattling on plates, knives, forks and spoons with a methodical energy that spoke the New England housekeeper all over. That's just like Drusilla! What won't she barrow next? I knew when that bean patch wanted poling so bad that it would'n never amount to nothin.' If I'd been Drusilla, I should ha' gone and poled 'em myself. There was plenty of good cedar poles in the barn—and John is in such a pucker with his haying—but Drusilla always was a shiftless creetur!"

Mr. Wheeler chuckled.

"I never yet knowed a mother-in-law as was contented with her daughter-in-law," said he. "Drusilla's a nice enough girl. "Tain't everybody has got your drive, mother!"

Just then a light footstep crossed the threshold and Drusilla herself made her appearance—a blooming young matron, with bright, hazel eyes, brown hair crimped in the newest fashion, and cheeks like a quince blossom.

"I own up, Drusilla," said the old farmer, deprecatingly lifting his hands "I clean forgot to tell mother about the beans. It's all my fault!"

"There's a lot in some old stone butter crocks on the top shelf in Great-aunt Betsey's milk-room," said Mrs. Wheeler, "Goodness knows how long she't had 'em, but they'll soak out and eat just as sweet as last year's crop. I may as well begin to clear away some of her old truck."

Drusilla faintly remonstrated as Mrs Wheeler hustled out of the room.

"But, mother, they'll never soak soft! And I want the pork and beans for supper to-night!"

"Hush, Drusilla!" said Mr. Wheeler; "mother's dreadful economical. Let her think she's using up Aunt Betsey's beans. I'll send the chore-boy over with some fresh ones directly; but you take what she gives you, and be thankful. Mother's a little cranky if she don't get her own way, you know."

And Drusilla laughed and nodded.

Mrs. Wheeler returned presently with a gray stone jar, whose wide mouth was covered with a flat lid, exactly fitting the opening.

"There's nine of 'em," said she—"nine stone jars full of white beans. Did ever any one hear of such a thing! Where's your basket, Drusilla?"

Drusilla obediently held up the willow basket which she had brought over from the little brown house at the saw-mill, where she lived, and Mrs. Wheeler tilted the contents of the stone jar into its capacious recesses.

Like a noiseless, white cascade, outflowed a quart or so of snowy beans; then, with a click and clatter, came a torrent of n oisy silver-pieces!

Mrs. Wheeler uttered a little shriek and dropped the stone jar. It shivered into a dozen pieces.

"Goodness me!" cried Drusilla, "what's this?"

"Great-aunt Betsey's money!" said Mr. Wheeler, who was the first to recover his composure. Great-aunt Betsey's hoard, as sartin' as you're born. And what a queer savings bank she has selected, to be sure!"

"There's eight more of 'em!" said Mrs. Wheeler, spasmodically grasping her husbands arm. "Do you suppose—"

"Let's go and see," said Mr. Wheeler, "After this I'm prepared not to be surprised at nothing that may happen. Come, Drusilla!"

It was as they expected. The eight stone jars were half packed with silver dollars, and the rest filled up with ancient white beans; and here, for quarter of a century, Great-aunt Betsey's little fortune had lain unsuspected in the milk room appertaining to her own portion of the farmhouse.

For what capitalist, burglar, or professional borrower of money would ever suspect a jar of white beans?

And next to becoming a centenarian, Great-aunt Betsey could have conferred no greater publicity upon her niece than by this magpie-like proceeding, for the occurrence went the round of "Pork and Beans," "A Miser's Hoard," "Remarkable Instance of Avarice," and sundry other "taking" titles.

All the neighbors called to inquire, one or two illustrated newspaper artists swooped dawn upon the scene with their pencils and portfolios, and Mrs. Wheeler found herself, and at once, a famous character.

"And to this day," says Drusilla, her daughter-in-law, "we never have pork and beans for dinner but that John will say, "Wife, don't this remind you of mother's Great-aunt Betsey, who just came short of being a centenarian?"

Feminine Fancies.

Carved ivory jewelry is the proper thing to wear with white wool goods.

Blouse waists this season are not unlike the old fashioned garibaldi of several years ago.

The oldest fashioned flowers are sought for in millinery—such as "sweet williams," pinks, etc.

Watered ribbon is used more than plain this season, and is in white or colored equally decorative.

Two sprays of laurel leaves in old gold branching from a diamond solitaire is a new and handsome design for a ladies pin.

New novelties in the way of oxidized silver and Japanese lockets are in the shape of bugs, bearing a compass. Also turtle, chestnuts, fans and baskets.

A Sailor hat of white felt has a white pigeon wing in front, and shares with the blue straw sailor hats in favor for tennis suits of blue or cream white striped goods.

Old fashioned bell sides and buckles are in demand, as they are quite effective in clasping the various loosely hung trimmings and drapings of waist sleeve and skirt.

A dark shade of terra cotta is quite stylish for tea gowns for summer wear, particularly when combined with a contrasting color such as old pink or bright china blue.

The pongee and china silk cluster wraps and driving cloaks are being trimmed with a trellis work of flat brown galloon of braiding to relieve their excessive plainness.

Pheasant brown is a choice shade. It trims many pure yellow and beige-colored dresses, while a brown silk dress is appropriately trimmed with gold sequins and gold lace braiding.

A black figured white foulard silk has a light and airy effect when trimmed, not with black, but with pomegranate or scarlet watered ribbon, and with pipings of red silk to match the ribbon.

The "old oaken bucket" chatelain for ladies wear, is decidedly pretty. From a golden pulley a finely wrought chain bears two miniature buckets, which glide up and down with each movement of the wearer.

A flexible link bracelet just introduced, called the "plaque bracelet" consists of a number of square links, the surface of each representing a loose knot formed of from three to six strands. They are made in gold and in oxidized silver and in both plain and chased finished.

Black Sicilian silk dresses in heavy repped goods are again largely imported. They have jet and lace trimmings, and there are also many effective combinations of rich black and white lace and checked and barred black and white silks, with wrap, bonnet and parasol to match.

Why the Church Extension Failed

Winnepeg Siftings.

A Sioux Falls minister recently went out to another Dakota town to help organize a church. On his return his wife said to him:

"I trust you were successful and laid the foundation for a prosperous church society."

"Well, I'm afraid I can't say that I was."

"Why, I don't see what could have prevented?"

"I'll tell you; I got those together who appeared to be interested and we talked the matter over some little time.'

"Well, why don't you go on?"

"Why, they didn't appear to be very enthusiastic, and to test the matter I said, 'Gentlemen, I move that we proceed to organize a Presbyterian church.' Just then a prominent business man arose and said: 'I move to amend the gentleman's motion so that instead of a Presbyterian church we organize a board of trade and get up a boom.' Those in favor of the amendment,' said, I, 'will please rise.' You ought to have seen them get up! Every man stood up except one lame man, and he was feeling on the floor for his crutch. Some got up on the chairs and one man tried to crawl on top of the stove. When I came away they were talking about moving the cemetery to make room for a street car line."

How to Trim Them.

"Aw, Ethel," remarked Charley to his pretty cousin, "I believe—aw—I'll have the barbah—aw—trim my whiskers this morning—aw."

"Do, Charley," said his pretty cousin. "And—aw—Ethel, how would you suggest that I have them trimmed?"

"Well," replied the pretty cousin, after sufficient consideration, "I think they would look very sweet trimmed with pink ribbon."

A Young Lady Explains.

Two young ladies settled themselves in a box in the grand stand at Washington Park Saturday to see the Brooklyn and Louisvilles play.

"Oh isn't this lovely, Jen?" said one.

"Just too lovely for anything," was the reply. "Never saw a game; did you, Mamie?"

"No, never did; it must be jolly."

"Oh, it is. "I'll tell you all about it."

"You're awfully kind. What do they do?"

"The players hit the ball and run around in that path."

"But, Jen, what's all these letters mean on this card—R., B. H., S. B., P. O., A., and E.?"

"That's to keep score by. I know all about it; Mr. Byrne showed me yesterday."

"Do tell me; that's a dear."

"The R. means runs. You mark down when a man makes a run."

"But what's a run?"

"When a man runs around the path. The B. H. means base hits. When the men run around and hit the bases with their feet that's a base hit."

"What's a base?"

"One of those bags on the corner of the path. Now, the S. B. means stolen bases."

"Do the men steal them? I should think they wouldn't do that in broad daylight."

"Well, that's what it means, any way Then P. O. means—let us see—P. O.—P. O.——"

"Post office?"

"No-no-no. I forgot that. A. means assist. That man that stands in the corner of the chalk mark and hollers to the man to run. He's assisting him. E.—dear me, I forgot that, too. I wish Mr. Byrne was here. He'd tell us."

"Never mind, Jen, you know lots already."

"Oh, I know. It means errors."

"What's those?"

"When the umpire says a man is out and he isn't, that's an error, I believe.'

"Of course it is. Jen, how long will this last?"

"About two hours."

"I've got $2. Let's go down town and get ice cream."

"All right, come on."

What He Wanted.

Chicago Herald.

"I'll take two of those largest revolvers you showed me yesterday," said a young man with false teeth in a State street gun store yesterday.

"Self-acting?" asked the clerk.

"If you please; and just throw in three boxes of cartridges."

"Anything else?"

"Yes; I want a long knife with a broad hilt."

"Anything else?"

"Keep hand grenades?"

"Yes; how many do you want?"

"Half a gross of the largest size."

"What else?"

"A steel breast plate if you have it, and you might just toss in a small hand axe."

"Must be going to hunt somebody, eh?"

"Not necessarily. And while you are about it, just wrap up a repeating rifle with a gross of explosive bullets."

"Going after O'Brien?"

"No; no. Got any torpedoes?"

"Don't keep 'em. What are you going to do with all this truck?"

"I've just hired out as umpire in the Southwestern Base Ball League," said the man with false teeth, "and I want to prepare myself for some very close games."

He Was a Gentleman.

London Christian World.

Some amusing stories are told of the wit and wisdom of London school children. A class of boys in a boarding school was being examined orally in Scripture. The history of Moses had for some time been a special study, and one of the examiners asked, "What would you say of the general character of Moses?"

"He was meek," said one boy.

"Brave," said another.

"Learned," added a third boy.

"Please, sir," piped forth a pale faced, neatly dressed lad, 'he was a gentleman.'

"A gentleman?" asked the examiner "How do you make that out?"

The boy promptly replied in the same thin, nervous voice. Please, sir, when the daughters of Jethro went to the well for water, the shephards came and drove them away and Moses helped the daughof Jethro and said to the shepherds, "Ladies first, please gentlemen."

It is an old superstition that where crows build their nests health, happiness and prosperity are likely to reign. It is pleasing to learn that on her return to the White House Mrs. Cleveland will find that crows have been building their nests on the trees just below her windows.

How to Cook.

Graham Flour Pudding.—One cup of Graham flour, one cup of sweet milk, one cup of molasses, one cup of chopped raisins, one teaspoonful of soda. Steam three hours.

Salad of Salmon.—Cut some cold salmon into slices or pieces about the size of a dollar, garnish with capers and strings of lettuce hearts; pour a salad dressing over the whole.

Puff Pudding.—One pint of boiling milk and nine teaspoonfuls of flour, mix first with a little cold water. When cold add a little salt and flour, three well-beaten eggs and bake in a buttered dish. Serve at once.

Chocolate Cookies.—One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, three cups of flour, four eggs, one cup of grated chocolate, one-half teaspoonful of soda and one teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Roll thin and bake in quick oven.

Suet Pudding—One cup of molasses, one cup of suet, one cup of raisins, one cup of milk, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder; add flour till very stiff to beat with spoon: put in a steaming pan or floured bag, and steam constantly for three hours.

Eggless Cakes.—Two-thirds of a cup of sugar, two-thirds of a cup of sweet milk, one-third of a cup of butter, two cups of flour and two teaspoonful of baking powder. Flavor to taste, and before putting in the oven grate sugar over it.

Tea Cakes.—Rub together four teaspoonfuls of butter and one cup of sugar add one well beaten egg, one tablespoonful of cream and two cups of flour, into which has been sifted two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Bake in small pans and eat while fresh.

Beef Fritters.—Chop pieces of steak or cold roast beef very fine; make a batter of milk, flour and an egg, mix the meat with it. Put a lump of butter in a saucepan, let it melt, then drop the batter into it from a large spoon Fry until brown; season with pepper and salt and a little parsley.

Chicken Croquettes.—Take a cold chicken, roast, boiled or broiled; mince it very fine or it will not adhere, moisten with a rich gravy or with cream; season with pepper and salt and a little mace, if you like the flavor; make up into small forms, dip in egg, roll in bread crumbs and fry slowly in hot lard.

Cream Cake.—One-half cup of butter or one cup sweet cream, and one-half cups sugar, four eggs (one beaten separately), one-half cup sweet milk, two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar and one teaspoonful soda. Bake in a long pan. When done, cut open and spread between one pint whipped cream and one cup sugar. Flavor with lemon.

Bread Griddle Cakes.—Soak a small bowl of bread over night in milk. In the morning mix half a cupful of flour, into which is put one and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder, with one quart of milk, three well beaten eggs and a little salt. Beat up the bread with this batter until it is very light and fry a delicate brown. The batter should be thick.

Ice Cream.—Take three quarts of milk nine eggs, four tablespoonfuls of arrow root and three cups of white sugar. Set the dish containing the milk in a kettle of water and when hot, add the arrowroot, previously wet in milk, the sugar and the eggs. Cook a few minutes and flavor when cold. This will fill a gallon freezer. Less eggs may be used, but your cream will not be so nice.

SMILES.

Base ball batters strike for higher wages.

"I heard that old Curmudgeon is sick. Is his illness really serious?" "To him possibly, not to the rest of the family."

Mr. Marcus Padolsky, who is a clerk in Lyon & Co's dry goods store, departed last Monday for New York city and will sail on Wednesday, the 22d, in the steamer, Queen, for Europe. He will go to Russia, from which country he came about five year ago. He will return to America in September.

T. E. Thomas resides on Balser Weber's farm back of Howard. He is an excellent farmer and some of his crops are looking beautifully. A field of corn is especially fine—indeed, the best we have seen anywhere. It shows what grand results can be accomplished by farmers with the proper effort. Mr. Will Keller will enter Franklin and Marshall College, at Lancaster, this year. He has just been at that institution submitting to the regular examination for admission, and we are not surprised to hear that he went through with flying colors. In Latin and Greek he made one of the best records, said one of the professors, that has ever been made at the entrance examination in that institution, and in other branches he was almost equally good. Will has spent three years at the Bellefonte Academy, and his splendid record reflects credit on the Academy as well as upon his own excellent abilities.

Three Ways of Cutting Hair.

The following will be of interest as showing a Philadelphia barber's judgment on an important subject:

"There are only three ways of cutting a man's hair," the scientific barber in a Philadelphia shop remarked yesterday as he ran his shears caressingly over the reporter's head.

"You thought there were a dozen? Well, that's where you are wrong. There are modifications, of course, but the distinct styles are limited to a trio. First there's the close cut, done altogether with the clippers, and affected chiefly by prize fighters and boys. Then there is the pompadour, which was worn by almost everybody a couple of years ago, but is now limited to a few who don't like to be bothered parting their hair It is the hardest of the lot to cut. But the style adopted by the great majority of mankind is the plain ordinary, every day hair cut, rather short behind and parted at the side. It is subject, however, to a great many modifications. Some want it banged in front, some want it banged behind, some want it banged over the ears and others don't want in banged at all.

"Fashion gives a man a good deal of play in the matter of combing his hair. About the only thing he can't wear in good society, with propriety, is the real short cut. With the beard it is the same way this summer. One style don't seem to be a bit more popular than another."

Choked By a Black Snake.

From the Richmond State.

Mr. Karl Kramer, who is now at work frescoing the interior of Mr. Joseph Bryan's residence, after getting through with his day's work went to the brook a short distance below Mordecai's pond to fish. While standing on the bank he noticed a large black snake coiled up on a log. Mr. Kramer struck at the snake with his pole to frighten it off; but the snake didn't move. He then threw a rock at it. The snake sprang at him and fastened its fangs in his trousers. Mr. Kramer seized the snake just below the head and jerked it upwards. Instantly the snake coiled its body around Kramer's neck and began tightening its folds until Mr. Kramer was nearly suffocated. He endeavored to break the hold, but failed. Seeing that unless he was released from the deadly embrace he would be killed, Mr. Kramer, who was growing weak from the struggle, staggered up to a large rock which was a short distance off and beat the head of the snake against it until it was killed. The snake measured eight feet long and six inches around the body.

ENJOY LIFE.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from diseases, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as biliousness Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. 19 3 1y

President Garfield's Physician.

Dr. Bliss speaking in the highest terms of Speer's Port Wine writes the following from

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25, 1884.
ALFRED SPEER, ESQ., Pasaic, N. J.

Dear Sir:—I have to acknowledge the superior quality of Wines of your production, notably your Port Wine, and to say I have prescribed them for my patients for the past two years, with uniform and satisfactory results. I have full confidence in the purity of your Wines and that they are uniformly of standard strength, hence prescribe them almost exclusively in my practice.

Very truly yours,

A Fact Worth Knowing.

A physician in Genesee Co., N. Y., who has used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine in his practice, for several years, recently wrote to the proprietors as follows:—"I do not think you give sufficient publicity to the value of your Aromatic Wine in all cases of dysentery, cholera morbus and summer complaints generally. I have for three seasons past used it in many severe cases of the above, and it has never failed to afford speedy and gratifying relief." No proprietary remedy has ever received such general endorsement from regular physicians of high standing as Gilmore's Aromatic Wine.

MANHOOD

A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical cure of Seminal weakness, or Spermatorrhœa, induced by Self-Abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.—By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience, that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Personal Pencilings.

Mr. Joe Rathmell, of Williamsport, spent two days in Bellefonte looking after insurance business.

T. P. Rynder, the chairman of the Greenback-Labor Party of Pennsylvania, is spending the summer at his home in Milesburg.

Mrs. S. A. Marshall departed from this place on Wednesday to go to Sherman Centre, Sherman county, Kansas, where she expects to reside.

Mrs. John P. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Weaver accompanied Mr. Harris to Boston and to witness the commencement exercises at Wellesley College.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walker have moved from Philipsburg to Curtin's Iron Works, where Mr. Walker has accepted the management of the company's store.

Mr. John Bartruff, after several weeks absence during which he was traveling through various parts of Pennsylvania, spent last Friday at his home in this place.

Mr. Thomas S. Krall, an exceedingly agreeable young gentleman from Lebanon, Pa., is visiting friends in town at the home of Mr. Frank B. Stover on High street.

Dr. Atherton, the polished and scholarly president of State College, is taking part this week in the commencemnt exercises of Amherst College, delivering one of the principal addresses.

Mr. Marcus Padolsky, who is a clerk in Lyon & Co's dry goods store, departed last Monday for New York city and will sail on Wednesday, the 22d, in the steamer, Queen, for Europe. He will go to Russia, from which country he came about five year ago. He will return to America in September.

T. E. Thomas resides on Balser Weber's farm back of Howard. He is an excellent farmer and some of his crops are looking beautifully. A field of corn is especially fine—indeed, the best we have seen anywhere. It shows what grand results can be accomplished by farmers with the proper effort. If all who cultivate the land would do equally well Centre county would be famous for agriculture.

Mr. Will Keller will enter Franklin and Marshall College, at Lancaster, this year. He has just been at that institution submitting to the regular examination for admission, and we are not surprised to hear that he went through with flying colors. In Latin and Greek he made one of the best records, said one of the professors, that has ever been made at the entrance examination in that institution, and in other branches he was almost equally good. Will has spent three years at the Bellefonte Academy, and his splendid record reflects credit on the Academy as well as upon his own excellent abilities.

Three Ways of Cutting Hair.

The following will be of interest as showing a Philadelphia barber's judgment on an important subject:

"There are only three ways of cutting a man's hair," the scientific barber in a Philadelphia shop remarked yesterday as he ran his shears caressingly over the reporter's head.

"You thought there were a dozen? Well, that's where you are wrong. There are modifications, of course, but the distinct styles are limited to a trio. First there's the close cut, done altogether with the clippers, and affected chiefly by prize fighters and boys. Then there is the pompadour, which was worn by almost everybody a couple of years ago, but is now limited to a few who don't like to be bothered parting their hair It is the hardest of the lot to cut. But the style adopted by the great majority of mankind is the plain ordinary, every day hair cut, rather short behind and parted at the side. It is subject, however, to a great many modifications. Some want it banged in front, some want it banged behind, some want it banged over the ears and others don't want in banged at all.

"Fashion gives a man a good deal of play in the matter of combing his hair. About the only thing he can't wear in good society, with propriety, is the real short cut. With the beard it is the same way this summer. One style don't seem to be a bit more popular than another."

Choked By a Black Snake.

From the Richmond State.

Mr. Karl Kramer, who is now at work frescoing the interior of Mr. Joseph Bryan's residence, after getting through with his day's work went to the brook a short distance below Mordecai's pond to fish. While standing on the bank he noticed a large black snake coiled up on a log. Mr. Kramer struck at the snake with his pole to frighten it off; but the snake didn't move. He then threw a rock at it. The snake sprang at him and fastened its fangs in his trousers. Mr. Kramer seized the snake just below the head and jerked it upwards. Instantly the snake coiled its body around Kramer's neck and began tightening its folds until Mr. Kramer was nearly suffocated. He endeavored to break the hold, but failed. Seeing that unless he was released from the deadly embrace he would be killed, Mr. Kramer, who was growing weak from the struggle, staggered up to a large rock which was a short distance off and beat the head of the snake against it until it was killed. The snake measured eight feet long and six inches around the body.

ENJOY LIFE.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from diseases, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as biliousness Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. 19 3 1y

—Jack McKelvey and John Gilbraith have been arrested for complicity in the probable murder and attempted robbery at the home of Peter Hawn in Juniata township, Huntingdon county, on Thursday morning. McKelvey is a noted desperado living at Mapleton. Gilbraith the one who was shot by Hawn, lives at Mt. Union. It is believed that he will die Geo. Auker, who was wounded by Gilbraith, is still living.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetation remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after testing its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human sufferings, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt, in German, French or English, with full direction for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NOYES, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. 19 1 1yeow

—If young men who are interested in base ball call upon our citizens within the next few days to get money with which to make improvements to base ball grounds they are requested to respond liberally. Judging by a request we have received to make such announcement, we conclude that certain young men are contemplating such a movement.

A Lady's Perfect Companion.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH, a new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in childbirth but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that any womam may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness, swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. It is reliable and highly endorsed by physicians everywhere as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out; it will save you great pain, and possibly your life. Send two cent stamp for descridtive circular, testimonials and confidential letter sent in sealed envelope. Address FRANK THOMAS & Co., Publishers, Baltimore, Maryland.

President Garfield's Physician.

Dr. Bliss speaking in the highest terms of Speer's Port Wine writes the following from

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25, 1884.
ALFRED SPEER, ESQ., Passaic, N. J.
Dear Sir:—I have to acknowledge the superior quality of Wines of your production, notably your Port Wine, and to say I have prescribed them for my patients for the past two years, with uniform and satisfactory results. I have full confidence in the purity of your Wines and that they are uniformly of standard strength, hence prescribe them almost exclusively in my practice.
Very truly yours,
D. W. BLISS, M. D.

A Fact Worth Knowing.

A physician in Genesee Co., N. Y., who has used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine in his practice, for several years, recently wrote to the proprietors as follows:—"I do not think you give sufficient publicity to the value of your Aromatic Wine in all cases of dysentery, cholera morbus and summer complaints generally. I have for three seasons past used it in many severe cases of the above, and it has never failed to afford speedy and gratifying relief." No proprietary remedy has ever received such general endorsement from regular physicians of high standing as Gilmore's Aromatic Wine.

—Mr. John W. Keely, inventor of the famous motor, has been heard from again. He is proclaiming, as of old, what he can do, but has never yet been known to fulfill any of his promises.

For a time my life was despaired of. My trouble was with the Kidneys, Liver and Bladder—also Constipation. Finally I used Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and in my opinion it saved my life. I make this statement to save those who suffer as I did.—A. J. Gifford, Lowell, Mass. Druggists, $1. Send 2-cent stamp to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for his book on Kidney, Liver and Blood disorders. Mention this paper.

THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.

Mr. F. A. Miller, 630 East 157th street, New York, was cured of extreme malarial prostration after seven years suffering. He had run down from 175 pounds to 97, began on Kaskine in June, 1886, went to work in one month, regained his full weight in six months. Quinine did him no good whatever.

Mr. Gideon Thompson, the oldest and one of the most respected citizens of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "I am ninety years of age, and for the last three years have suffered from malaria and the effects of quinine poisoning. I recently began with Kaskine which broke up the malaria and increased my weight 22 pounds."

Mrs. T. A. Solomons, of 159 Halliday St., Jersey City writes: My son Harry eleven years, was cured of Malaria by Kaskine, after fifteen months' illness, when we had given up all hope.

Letters from the above persons, giving full details, will be sent on application.

A GREAT CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY
Is the Loss of
MANHOOD
A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical cure of Seminal weakness, or Spermatorrhœa, induced by Self-Abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.—By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D.
The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience, that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Surrounded by Fire.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 18.—Five workmen were standing on a narrow platform in the twin shaft, about two hundred feet from the bottom of the pit, to-day when an explosion of gas ocourred with tremendous force, enveloping them in its deadly flame and burning them so badly that the death of two of their number is expected hourly. The injured workmen are: Patrick Barrett, foreman of the gang, who is 29 years old, and has a wife and three children; Edward Mooney, aged 25, married; Michal Fillin, aged 23, married; Frank Donohue, aged 22, single; Bernard Dempsey, aged 22, single. Barrett and Mooney are fatally burned. The flames spent its full force on their heads and bodies, and they linger in great agony from which death would prove a welcome relief.

At the time of the accident the workmen were removing some air compresser pipes that were to be used in a pump in another part of the mine, and it is thought the derangement of a brattice, which regulates the air current, caused the gas from a rock blower to accumulate until it had reached a great volume, which was ignited by the naked lamps carried by the men in their hats. Although the shock of the explosion was tremendous and shook the earth in the vicinity of the shaft, all the men with the exception of Mooney held their places on the platform, which swung in such a perilous place right in the path of the rushing flame and two hundred feet from the bottom of the shaft.

Train Robbery.

HOUSTON, Tex., 18.—The most daring train robbery that has occurred in Texas was performed at 1.30 o'clock this morning, a short distance this side of Schulenburg, on the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railroad. As the train drew up at the station two men with drawn revolvers mounted the engine, covering the engineer, and forced him to pull the train to the open prairie, a few hundred yards to the east, where a fire was burning, around which stood 8 or 10 men armed with Winchester rifles. The two robbers on the engine stood guard over the man at the throttle, while the others went through mail, express and passengers cars. Nearly all the passengers were asleep and unaware of what was going on until they were aroused by the robbers.

All the passengers were relieved of what valuables they possessed and it is difficult to form an estimate of the amount of money and jewelry secured. The amount, however, is reckoned at $5,000. Wells, Fargo & Co's express car was also gone through, and a large amount of money taken, but the amount cannot be ascertained. The express messenger, M. E. Folger, resisted the attack of the robbers, when he was knocked down and severely beaten. Mr. Folger returned to the scene of the robbery on the 10 o'clock train this morning, and consequently, the reporter could not obtain his statement of the affair. Nothing definite can be learned from Wells, Fargo & Co., and rumors, together with statements of passengers, are all that can be given to the public. When the express messenger was discovered by the robbers when they entered the car, he was secreting some valuable packages and without a word they began beating him with their pistols. No mail route agent was on the train, but the through mail pouches in the express car, were all cut open and their contents appropriated. The total amount secured by the robbers is put down at $8,000 or $10,000. The men of the gang made off with it successfully. The whole country is aroused and in arms. Several posses have gone in search of the robbers.

Jubilee Beginning.

LONDON, June 20—The city is already showing signs of being crowded in anticipation of to-morrow. The throngs in the streets are more numerous than at any time within the recollection of the present generation. In some parts of the town the crush of sightseers impedes traffic in the streets. The queen this morning drove from the castle at Windsor to the railroad station and came to London on a special train. She drove from the station here to Buckingham palace. Crowds of people lined the entire route in town and displayed the greatest enthusiasm. Her majesty appeared delighted at the loyalty exhibited and bowed and smiled in every direction.

The decorations with banners, mottoes and flags are increasing enormously, and when done, promise to eclipse anything of the kind ever before attempted in England. The weather is beautiful, the sun shining brightly. A stranger in London to-day would imagine that the whole of its population was out on a holiday. The crush is simply terrific, and one can hardly conceive what it will be to-morrow. Many visitors from the provinces were unable to obtain lodgings last night, and accommodated themselves in the streets as best they might. They presented a sorry appearance this morning, and many are starting homeward again. They do not want to live out of doors another twenty-four hours on the doubtful chance of seeing the royal personages ride by. No one can tell what the queen will decide to do to-morrow. She has changed her mind half a dozen times in as many days and the court officials are at their wits ends. Of course, the final decision will be given during the day, but there are many details that ought to have a week's time for their perfection that have been hanging unsettled until the last moment.

There are sure to be many hitches, but there is not believed to be any dynamite outrages. The companionship of the princess of Wales is believed to be sufficient to protect the queen from personal insult, even if such was possible. The princess is one of the royalties really beloved by the people. She is perhaps the only one of the eighteen or twenty potentates of small and great degree taking part in the show for whom there is any kindliness of feeling whatever. Three hundred peers and other prominent persons belonging to the Roman Catholic church have returned the tickets entitling them to seats in Westminister Abbey to-morrow during the jubilee services.

Went Up 16,000 Feet

CENTRALIA, Ill., June 10.—The World's balloon, which left St. Louis at 4 25 o'clock Friday descended seven miles west of here and about forty-five miles from St. Louis at 7 o'clock Saturday night. The balloon was sighted about 6 o'clock from here. It was sailing very low and finally disappeared. Word was soon brought to the city that it had landed. A party went out and found the air ship, which had been left by the aeronauts in charge of a watchman. None of the daring navigators were injured by the descent.

It is understood that the giving out of the gas, added to the fact that Professor Moore had just before sailing severely cut one of his hands, which was paining him severely, was the reason of the descent. The aeronauts came to this city and registered under assumed names, refusing to be interviewed further than to say the ascent was a scientific success. The air machine was taken back to St. Louis, whence it is expected another ascent will be made. The balloon reached an altitude of 16,000 feet.

Destructive Wind Storm.

LANCASTER, June 19.—The storm which passed over part of Lancaster county Friday night was the most destructive for years. It was accompanied by violent wind. Trees were blown down by the hundreds, barns unroofed and growing crops leveled. On the grounds of the State Normal school thirty trees were blown down and the same number damaged, but the buildings escaped injury. On Mr. John Martin's farm trees were uprooted in large numbers, and his big tobacco shed was completely demolished. At the farm of Christian Herr, in Manor, the wind blew two rails from a straw-stack with such force as to penetrate the house and wedged so firmly that they had to be sawed off. Nicholas Gardner, an employe of a brick kiln, was knocked unconscious by the lightning. A number of cattle were killed.

Two Trains Collide.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—A collision occurred at Havre de Grace, Md., on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad, this evening between two express trains. It is reported that three persons were killed, three very badly injured and a number of others more or less seriously injured. The railroad officials here decline to give any information whatever about the accident.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 21.—The fast express struck the baggage car of the south-bound train just as it crossed the switch below the depot and crashed into the parlor cars behind, overturning and completely demolishing two of them. No one on the north-bound train was hurt, but the south-bound train of six cars was very full of passengers and nearly all of them were more or less injured.

Mr. Alexander Gautrom, of Washington, was instantly killed. He was in the rear car and was crushed between two seats, and escaping steam from the engine scalding him to death. Among the wounded were T. A. Bland, of Washington, head scalded; Syabrice, New York, head and arm, cut; B. M. Baker, Baltimore, left leg broken; Rev. G. P. Pinkham, Minneapolis, Minn., shoulder blade broken and arm fractured; J. M. Wharton, Baltimore, skull fractured; J. H. McCormick, Brooklyn, N. Y., badly scalded; A. L. Wood, Camden, N. J., seriously hurt about the head; Rev. Hobart Smith, Baltimore, leg and hand badly cut. There were many others whose names could not be ascertained who left as soon as possible.

The engineer of the north bound train stuck to his post, but the fireman jumped off before the collision and was slightly injured internally. Many of the people in the overturned cars were gotten out with difficulty. Physicians were at once summoned and rendered all possibly assistance. The more seriously wounded were taken to the hotels and the remainder of the passengers of both trains were taken back to Baltimore as soon as a train could be made up. The body of Gautrom was turned over to the coroner who will hold an inquest to-morrow.

Wrecking trains from Wilmington arrived shortly after the accident and a large force of men set to work to clear the tracks. The accident was due to the fact that the Congressional express was behind time and passed the signal tower at a high rate of speed. The signals were all right, but Engineer Sargent says his airbrakes refused to work. He reversed the engine, but too late to prevent the collision. The accident occurred about one hundred yards from the bridge, where the single track crossing the bridge switches off into the bridge, forming a Y. At 11 o'clock to-night the tracks were partly clear and trains were running through on time.

Eight Were Drowned.

CLEVELAND, O., June 21.—The steam barge P. H. Walters, owned by John Homegardner, of Sandusky, was sunk in a storm off Black river, about 7 o'clock last evening, and eight lives were lost. The vessel left Marblehead yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and when off Black river the captain's wife, who was on board, begged the master to put in at Lorain, as the threatening weather alarmed her.

The vessel was headed toward the harbor, but had scarcely turned about when she was struck by a terrible squall The wind bore the barge round and round, the hold filled with water and in half a minute she sank. The captain, the mate and two of the captain's sons saved themselves by clinging to floating fenders. This morning, about 3 o'clock, the cries of the shipwrecked quartette attracted the attention of the lookout on the steamer Pearl, bound to Cleveland from Detroit. A life-boat was lowered and the shipwrecked mariners were then brought to Cleveland.

The names of the lost are: Mrs. I. G. Gillepsie, wife of the master; Alphos and Jennie Gillepsie, the master's children; Peter Grimes, engineer, of Cleveland; John Patterson, fireman; Gust Shaffer, wheelman, of Sandusky, O.; Peter Rowley, deck-hand, of Light House Station, O.; Kate Rowley, stewardess, wife of Peter.

The saved are: Capt. I. G. Gillepsie, Clinton, O.; Mate James Flora, of Port Clinton; George and Ikey Gillepsie, sons of the captain.

The survivors were brought to this city. Captain Gillepsie said to a reporter: "I can't say what caused the boat to capsize unless it was a cyclone. We had no idea there was going to be a blow of this kind. We saved nothing, not even our clothing from the wreck. My wife and children were aboard for a pleasure trip. The boat went down and nothing can be seen of her, not even the masts."

Peter Troy.

LONDON, June 21.—The release of Peter Troy, the supposed dynamiter, whose arrival at Queenstown the other day with a bunch of firecrackers created such consternation in London, has caused a great deal of amusement among the American visitors as well as the Irish inhabitants of the metropolis. The one section is laughing at the discovery of how little is required to start a dynamite scare in England, and the other because anything that frightens the British court, ministry and police contains an element of merriment possessed by nothing else than could possibly happen.

Troy was made to promise that he would show himself in court whenever he might be summoned, but, as everybody connected with his arrest, detention and hearing feels heartily ashamed of his part and delighted to have gotten rid of the man so cheaply, it is safe to say that Mr. Troy will never be invited to appear in connection with the case, and he can rejoice in the knowledge that his jubilee present to the queen—a thorough scare—made a greater impression upon her feelings than anything she has received, not excepting the touching ode of the English residents of Boston.

An Important Meeting Held.

PITTSBURG, June 20.—The session of the Amalgamated association to-day was one of the most important yet held. The committee on constitution submitted its report, making several recommendations which show that the association was determined to strengthen its ranks so as to rest on such a firm foundation that they will have no further fear of encroachment from the Knights of Labor. The report recommended that the clause reading in working by the ton be so arranged that members working by the day may also become members of the association. They will take in nearly everybody employed about a mill, and will increase the membership of the organization several thousand.

The proposition in reference to prohibiting members of the Knights of Labor from joining the association was amended so as to read on and after April 1, 1888, no member of this association can become a member of the Knights of Labor. A recommendation that the mills be shut down for two weeks during the summer failed to pass. With these amendments and changes, the report after a long discussion was adopted. After receiving the report of the committee on president and other officers and then transacting some routine business the convention adjourned. The final adjournment will probably take place Wednesday.

Briefs.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The flags, one of the United States and one of Great Britain, were trailed together in the vestibule of Trinity church this afternoon, and during the hour between three and four o'clock several thousands persons passed into the church to attend the jubilee choral services to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the accession of her majesty, the Queen Victoria. The features of the services was the sermon of Rev. Morgan, rector of the Church of Heavenly Rest, and chaplain of St. George's and St. David's.

CHICAGO, June 20.—Henry Doelitch, a German butcher, who, to avenge a trivial insult in a saloon Saturday, coolly plunged a butcher knife through the heart of a young brewer named Frank Meindel, was captured at Elgin this afternoon and locked up. A message to the chief of police announcing the fact was followed in less than ten minutes by another message, stating that Doelitch was dead. The murderer had suicided by hanging himself in his sell.

READING, Pa., June 20.—The county commissioners met to-day and investigated the charges that last year's tax collectors had retained about $40,000 of taxes of 1886 and had put the money out at interest for the benefit of themselves. The commissioners found the money to be about $40,000, and they notified the derelict collectors to settle within twenty days, or their bondsmen would be sued. Some arrests will likely be made.

NEW YORK, June 20.—On the arrival of the steamer Burgoyne from Havre, Saturday, United States Marshall Bernard arrested Lucien Mary, a steerage passenger, on the charge of murdering his uncle in France. He was arraigned this morning and remanded to await papers from France. An examination of his effects disclosed considerable jewelry supposed to have been stolen from his murdered uncle.

PITTSBURGH, June 20.—A special from Natrona, Pa., says: The work of evicting the strikers of the Pennsylvania salt works from the company's houses was begun to-day by Deputy Sheriff Carson and three assistants. The furniture of two families was carried out and set on the streets. No more evictions were attempted. The strikers are inclined to be quiet and so far have offered no resistance.

KEY WEST, Fla., June 19.—No new case of yellow fever has appeared in this city since yesterday, but three sailors sick with the disease on board the British barque, brothers and sisters, have been removed to the hospital. There have been two deaths at the hospital since yesterday. The record up to date stands as follows: Cases 34; deaths 13; discharged cured 7; remaining sick 14.

RANDOLPH, Mass., June 20.—Charles Alden, the inventor of milk-condensing, fruit-evaporating and other processes committed suicide this morning by shooting. Alden was at one time very wealthy. He served a number of terms on the New York board of aldermen, was 76 years old and had been subject to mental aberration for several weeks on account of financial difficulties.

CHARLESTGN, S. C., June 19.—The shock at Summerville this morning caused a sensible vibration of houses and furniture, but was not sufficient to do any injury or cause an alarm. The roar previously mentioned was faintly heard by some persons in Charleston. At Summerville the roars seemed to come from the southwest.

PITTSBURGH, June 20.—The committee of the Iron Manufacturers association appointed to consult with the committee from the Amalgamated association held a meeting to-day. It was learned after adjourning that they had decided to take a firm stand against the proposed ten per cent. advance in wages, and will not grant it to the puddlers.

AURORA, N. Y., June 20.—Mrs. Cleveland attended the students' prayer meeting last night and during the afternoon was formally introduced to the students. The reception lasted an hour. She was entertained this afternoon and evening by college friends. She wishes to reach Washington on Saturday.

PITTSBURGH, June 20.—Major Samuel Harper, department commander of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, has issued an order requesting the posts throughout the department to celebrate the coming Fourth of July in an old time manner.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 19.—A special to the News and Courier reports a startling shock of earthquake at Summerville at 10.30 this morning, accompanied by the most prolonged roaring since October 22d of last year. Charleston is quiet.

BETHLEHEM, June 20.—William Fenner's large slaughter house on the outskirts of South Bethlehem was struck by lightning last night, and with the machinery and other contents totally destroyed. Loss $9,000.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Rev. Charles Stowe, son of Mrs. H. B. Stowe, who filled the pulpit of the late Henry Ward Beecher yesterday will probably be appointed permanently pastor of Plymouth church.

Two Items from Erie.

ERIE, Pa., June 20.—By the caving in of a high bank at Lake Front to-day, John, Elsie and Jacob Fehrenbach were buried and killed; John O'Laughlin was seriously injured and was not dug out for three-quarters of an hour; Dominick Flanigan, Jacob Sell and Daniel Hanley were partly buried, but rescued.

Adam Scheney, while intoxicated, attempted to kill his wife with a revolver, inflicting a painful, but not fatal wound. The ball passed through her right shoulder. Scheney is supposed to have been demented for some time.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS

Reunion of the 184th Regiment.

Wednesday we visited the band of veterans who are in Bellefonte, representing the survivors of the 184th Regiment, Pa. V. V. They were assembled in the room of Gregg Post. We heard Comrade Joshua Folk relate how this, the first re-union, was brought about. It was through a chance meeting between him and Sergeant Jones at a recent military gathering. The object is, of course, to form permanent organization with a view to future reunions, and also to relate reminiscences of the war.

At the meeting that morning, Sargeant Jones, of Company E. was called to the chair, and Comrade Samuel Gault, of Co. G, made secretary. A letter was received from Col. Kleckner, of Philadelphia, expressing regrets at his enforced absence, and the Colonel was affectionately remembered with a vote of thanks.

The following comrades were present:

Abram V. Miller, 1st Lieutenant of Co. E.
Frank Jones, 1st Sergeant of Co. E.
Joshua Folk, Co. E.
John R. Tate, color Sergeant Co. E.
John Haldemen, Co. E.
Stanley Watson, corporal Co. E.
Thomas Watson, Co. E.
Andrew Lucas, Co. E.
Matlock Fry, Co. E.
George M. Fetzer, Co. E.
H. M. Roads, Co. B.
Thomas Burns, Co. C.
Samuel Gault, Co, G.

Camp fire in post room on Wednesday evening to which all old soldiers, citizens and lodges were invited.

SAMUEL GAULT, Secretary.

Thanks for the Ladies.

Grove Brothers Post, of Howard, is grateful to the many friends who assisted them so materially in the recent Memorial day exercises and expressed such gratitude in appropriate resolutions on the occasion of a recent meeting.

Particularly do they acknowledge the services of three young ladies—Misses Carrie Phesant, Susan B. Holter and Mary Moore—for collecting a sufficient amount of money to defray necessary expenses. The arrangement of the flowers and other fine work which ladies only can do in a proper style was attended to by a large number of young ladies, among whom Misses Clara Kline and Frances Tipton were prominent. They are entitled to the thanks of the Post.

Telephone and Electricity.

The telephone and electricity are closely enough allied to be friends, but when the telephone line and the electric light line become crossed, as they have been since Monday afternoon, the effect is sometimes quite disastrous. The fact is, there is a cross of the lines somewhere, which the telephone people have not yet been able to locate. The cross has caused the subscribers also to become somewhat cross, and hence this explanation is due. The most careful search for the difficulty will be continued to-day and doubtless before it is time for the electric lights to be turned on this evening everything will be fixed up, and both lines will be operated satisfactorily.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

FOR
Inactive Liver,
Disordered
Stomach,
Irregular Habit.

When Biliousness comes like a foe,
To sap the strength of high and low;
By day the strongest nerves to shake,
By night to keep the brain awake;
Let no one pine away in grief,
For TARRANT'S SELTZER brings relief

—We are tardy in doing so, but we nevertheless heartily congratulate Will Bartley, son of Mr. David Bartley, of this place, on having secured the senatorial scholarship enabling him to take a complete course at State College, free of all charges for tuition. Will at one time carried the NEWS in the South route and has since graduated from the Bellefonte High School, delivering the presentation oration during the recent commencement exercises.

—The third one of the Hawn robbers was arrested at Mount Union on Monday evening and brought to Huntingdon at two o'clock Tuesday morning, where he was lodged in jail. His name is Galbraith, and he is a brother to John Galbraith, the one who was shot by young Auker. John Galbraith is still in Huntingdon jail in a very critical condition in consequence of his wounds. Auker is still improving and it is likely now that he will get well.

—Hopkins, Weymouth & Co., the Lock Haven firm whose saw mill near Snow Shoe was destroyed by fire some time ago, are rebuilding in excellent style. They are moving the machinery from their mill at Dunnstown to the new mill. On Saturday morning they hauled the large engine bed and cylinder, which weigh five tons, across the river bridge, three large teams of horses being the motive power.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad company is about to open an attractive spot in the Beaver Valley as a summer resort. It is named Filician Park and can be made equal to Cresson in beauty. The company propose to erect a splendid hotel for tourists at that place, and it will attract summer travelers from Pittsburg and other places not far away.

—The price of round trip tickets to Gettysburg and return ($5.37) which will prevail during the semi-annual encampment of the Pennsylvania G. A. R., July 9 to 15, is so low as to render it a cheap trip for everybody. The attractiveness of such an excursion is well known.

—The picnic to have been held at Snow Shoe Intersection, by the teachers and pupils of the Bellefonte Academy, announced to be held on Thursday, has been postponed until Saturday, when, if the day is pleasant, it will positively take place.

—Since our publication of Saturday we have learned that Mr. Will Keller made a grade of 100 in his Mathematical examination into Franklin and Marshall College and passed exceptionally satisfactory examinations in every department.

—Major Samuel Harper, Department Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, has issued an order requesting Posts throughout the Department to celebrate the coming Fourth of July in an old-time manner.

Practical Proof.

The most positive proof of the worth of anything is in the results it accomplishes. This is especially the case in regard to educational institutions. As only one instance selected from among many showing the high position which graduates of the Bellefonte Academy can take in any College, we quote a sentence here and there from a letter written by a young gentleman now attending one of America's greatest colleges.

"Success seems to have followed me throughout the time I have been here. Of course I am pleased, but it was not accomplished by me, but through the training of my instructors in the Bellefonte Academy. I am just beginning to see its superiority over other preparatory institutions. I think that if the people of the town would take it into consideration that nearly every graduate of the Academy has taken honors at their gradution here they would make more exertions to fit up that grand institutions." The students writes much more of the same sort, which it is not necessary to publish at present.

Business in Court.

Court called at the appointed time on Monday morning, with Judge A. O. Furst presiding. The principal case, Philip Keller vs. Ford's heirs and Jas. A. Beaver, was continued. It is an action of ejectment.

The case of Chas. Witmer vs. B. & B. R. R. Co. was also continued, on motion, for cause, at cost of defendant. J. W. Gephart, Esq., one of the attorneys, is quite ill.

The following cases were settled, Aaron Williams, Esq., attorney for plaintiffs; D. F. Fortney, Esq., for defendant:

Isaac Merryman vs. William McHammond, surviving executor of John Brett, deceased; fine for plaintiff $250.63.

John Archey, Sr., vs. Same—$720.90.

Andrew Merryman vs. Same—$149.95.

Robert Hammond vs. Same—$1163.40.

James Oliver vs. Same—$1184.32.

J. H. Gates vs. Same—$446.52.

Elizabeth Archey vs. Same—$357.45.

At 10 o'clock Monday morning all jurors were discharged.

Reunion of the 184th.

Wednesday was the day set for the re-union of the 184th regiment, P. V. It is the first event of the kind in the history of the regiment since it met on camp and field, and it promised to be an interesting occasion.

The meetings were held in the hall of Gregg Post—the first one at 11 o'clock a. m. They met again at 2 o'clock, the day meetings being devoted to the transactions of business. In the evening at 7.30 o'clock there was a camp fire. The veterans of this community were earnestly requested to attend the camp fire exercises and all who are in any way interested in these popular and very enjoyable gatherings were made welcome.

—A Claysburg correspondent of the Hollidaysburg Standard tells about Mr. Calvin Stine and his two dogs encountering two large black snakes a few days ago, and upon first sight the smallest dog went for one the snakes whereupon the reptile wrapt itself around the dog's body. The other dog immediately went to work trying to free its hapless mate, and in doing so dragged dog, snake and all about twenty rods before the snake could be made let go its grip, but as soon as that was accomplished his snakeship was dispatched with a club by the owner of the dog. The reptile measured over six feet in length, while the one that escaped was fully ten feet in length.

—A visit on Tuesday to the Phœnix planing mill, managed by Mr. John Ardell, Jr., convinced us of the fact that it is just now humming along at its utmost capacity. This mill is turning out the woodwork for the large buildings being erected in this place and as each building is being pushed forward rapidly the woodwork is at once in demand. Mr. Ardell is in his element when rushed with work and has the capacity to attend not only to the orders as a whole, but to the slightest detail of each order. He expects to have all the work completed at the time it is promised and of course will take pleasure in receiving more orders just like them.

—The reading rooms of the Y. M. C. A. and the really good library of books which is so free of access offer exceptional advantages to young men, such as cannot be found in many places of this kind. Particularly useful are they to the young men of this community whose time in the evening is at their own disposal. The rooms are pleasant and are free to all. The secretary is always present and will be pleased to select any book that may be desired from the library, and the time till 10 o'clock may be devoted to profitable reading. Of course, as these facts become better known among young men the number daily frequenting the rooms becomes larger.

—The warm weather which has prevailed the past few days in nearly every part of the country continues, and at the signal office in Washington City it is said immediate relief is to be expected only from local thunder storms. Should the wind turn to the east, however, it would have the effect of reducing the temperature in states bordering on the ocean. The recent warm wave originated in the gulf states about the 14th inst., and spread over almost the entire country, a small portion of New England and the states bordering on the great lakes being the only sections which have not experienced torrid heat.

—The vines climbing over porches of dwelling houses give a home-like and comfortable appearance to them. There is room for the display of taste and skill in training the vines. Whether from accident or design, they are trained quite artistically along the front of the porch of the house occupied by E. R. Chambers, Esq. They form a perfect framework in front of one end of the porch with an open space in the centre. When E. R. sits at that end of the porch the effect is picturesque. At least, the picture is there and the esque can easily be added.

—Dr. R. L. Dartt has one of the finest gardens in Bellefonte located between East Lamb and East Linn streets. It was made only a few weeks ago and it is wonderful how everything in the garden is growing. The corn looks beautiful; the potatoes, beans, peas, etc., are growing in perfection. The Doctor also put out about a score of fine fruit trees and several grape vines which are in a thrifty condition. The gardener employed by the Doctor evidently understands the business in every detail.

—Mr. J. C. Henderson, the present Republican county commissioner, announces that he will be a candidate before the Republican county convention. Mr. Henderson is one of the best commissioners that has ever occupied that position in Centre county. His part in the conduct of that office has resulted in financial benefit to the county. It would require a page to tell all the good we could of Mr. Henderson.

—The wheat in some portions of the county—among them Spring township—is distressingly poor, and in a majority of instances an entire failure. For instance, on Mr. Charles Eckenroth's farm there will not be more than fifty bushels, while some of his neighbors wont have a bushel. This state of things is extremely discouraging to them.

—Mr. William Dawson makes announcement that he will be a candidate for the nomination for County Commissioner. Mr. Dawson is a gentleman of intelligence and business ability. His elements of popularity are unquestionable, and his strength as a candidate promises to be very great.

Extra Session Talk.

The attitude of the Philadelphia Times is deplorable. It has kept at the extra session bugaboo until it is worn threadbear, while the prospects for such an event as well the reasons for it are becoming daily less probable.

To have an extra session now would be extreme folly as it could not affect the revenue for the present year. The tax assessments are all completed.

In the fall will be the time for an extra session and then the Governor will call one. The revenue law can then be passed and other business transacted and the law can be put in operation as quickly as if it should be passed now.

In this view of the case, what reason can our friends, the Democrats, have to criticise or complain? If a wrong has been done, it can be righted then. If a fee was paid by corporations as a premium for some one to neglect duty, that fee can just as readily be rendered useless to affect the purpose then as now.

We are sorry that the Times and other of our contemporaries have insisted on acting as if their ears are too long. The Governor, with very great wisdom, has adopted the proper course and is to be commended for his judgment.

A VIGOROUS effort will be made in the coming congress to have Inauguration day changed from the fourth of March to the 30th of April, the day upon which Washington was inaugurated. The proposed celebration of the centennial of the adoption of the constitution, has already been much agitated. The Senate at its last session passed a resolution in its favor, and the Congress is committed to both this project and the celebration of the four hundreth anniversary of the discovery of America in 1892.

MRS CLEVELAND seems to be making friends about as fast as Mr. Cleveland is making enemies.

Though Shaken Like a Leaf

By the most trivial causes, weak nerves are easily susceptible of invigoration, a term which also imports, in this instance, quietude. The nervous have but to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters systematically to overcome that super-sensitiveness of the human sensorium, which is subversive of all bodily comfort and mental tranquility, and which reacts most hurtfully upon the system. The difficulty underlying this, as well as many other ailments, is imperfect assimilation, no less than incomplete digestion of the food. In the discharge of both the digestive and assimilative functions, the Bitters are the most potent, the most reliable auxiliary. As the body regains vigor and regularity by its aid, the brain and nervous system are also benefited. Persons subject to the influence of malaria, dyspeptic and rheumatic invalids, and persons whose kidneys are inactive, should, also, use the Bitters.

Here and There.

In 1797 there were only 480 post offices in the United States.

A New York boy, chased by a policeman for bathing in the river, jumped into an ice chest and was suffocated.

In Washington last week a prisoner passed off a counterfeit dollar on a police magistrate in payment of the fine imposed.

A white man in Atlanta has sued a railroad company because he was not allowed to ride in the car set apart for colored people.

Five vessels from Dundee have been employed this season in the Newfoundland seal fishery, and they have caught 50,950 seals, as against 41,880 last year.

Bunker Hill monument was entirely completed on the 23d of July, 1842. The obelisk is 30 feet square at the base and 15 feet square at the top and 221 feet high. It is built of Quincy granite.

A plant has been discovered in India which is said to destroy the power of tasting sugar. It will be useful in counteracting a morbid appetite for sweet meats, which is an active promoter of indigestion. Another plant in Madras destroys the relish for cigars and tobacco. Thus two important curatives are added to the materia medica.

Tennessee has two streams called Daddy and Mammy creeks. They were named away back when the state was first settled. A husband and wife riding along on horseback began quarreling, and when they arrived at the first stream the former soundly cuffed his wife. He then named the stream Daddy creek. They jogged along still quarreling till they came to the second creek, when the woman picked up the limb of a tree and felled her companion, and triumphantly named the water Mammy creek.

A Fact Worth Knowing.

A physician in Genesee Co., N. Y., who has used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine in his practice, for several years, recently wrote to the proprietors as follows:—"I do not think you give sufficient publicity to the value of your Aromatic Wine in all cases of dysentery, cholera morbus and summer complaints generally. I have for three seasons past used it in many severe cases of the above, and it has never failed to afford speedy and gratifying relief." No proprietary remedy has ever received such general endorsement from regular physicians of high standing as Gilmore's Aromatic Wine.

—The entertainment given in the Baptist church at Eagleville on Saturday evening was participated in by Mrs. William Schultz, Mrs. K. D. Batcheler, Mrs. J. R. Stevenson, Mr. James Snyder, Mr. J. R. Stevenson, Miss Minnie Clark and the Misses Kinley, of Lock Haven, and Mrs. G. M. Repasz, of Williamsport. The proceeds were for the benefit of the church and the entertainment was well attended.

Grapes for Health.

The use of ripe Grapes for dinner is of incalculable benefit to the human system, and the Pure Grape Juice, properly preserved, is invaluable for weakly persons and invalids. The Port Grape Wine and the Grape Juice preserved from his own vineyards, by Alfred Speer of New Jersey, is pronounced by the medical experts to be the most reliable to be obtained. To use the Unfermented Grape Juice is just like eating the ripe sweet grape.

—Mr. Finley E. Johnston, son of ex-Postmaster John T. Johnston of this place, was married on Wednesday, June 15, to Miss Katie C. Kellond, of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. They will be at home to friends at 78 Western Avenue, Fond du Lac, after July 6th. The happy bride and groom have our most earnest congratulations.

Intense Excitement.

CHICAGO, June 15.—At 11 a. m. a raid by the bears had a disquieting effect on the board, and there was a renewal of the excitement and uncertainty of yesterday and early this morning. This was probably increased by the rumor that Kershaw & Co., would margin their wheat down to 73c. only. At 1.30 wheat was quiet as on an ordinary day when the bears made another raid on July wheat and it sold down by jumps to 73⅞ @ 72¾, to 73¼, to 73; then up to 73¼ and back again to 73. The pit was once more all nervous excitement and uncertainty, and the members who had sought the other pits during the calm again returned to the wheat pit. At 11.20 o'clock liberal orders to buy wheat coming in from outside points, the market became steadier. July sold up to 74, and was quoted at 83¾ with a stronger tendency.

At 11.30 four more failures were announced on 'Change. The firms are T. B. Baldwin & Co., Crosby & Co., Hibbard & Co., and M. B. Craft. Balding & Co., claim to be even on the market. The suspension of Hibbard & Co and Crosby &. Co. caused some surprise as both came unexpectedly. Hibbard & Co. claim to be solvent. July wheat dropped to 73¼. Charles Henrotin & Co., stock brokers and members of the New York and Chicago stock exchanges, have also failed. The firm was caught in the wheat squeeze and pushed to the wall. No statement of their condition is yet obtainable. Henrotin was until recently the president of the Chicago Stock Exchange His failure was a great surprise.

At 12.15 the suspension of S. M. Robinson and Crafts & Co., was announced. It is as yet utterly impossible to gain any adequate idea of the amount involved in the failures of the morning. B. J. McCleary's downfall is thought the heaviest, and will reach more firms than any other. McCleary, it is said, was in the deal quite heavily, but in the present unsettled state of affairs even members of the firm had no idea how they stood. Margins were open and trades unsettled, but until matters are adjusted it will be next to impossible to tell how any of the firms stand. The excitement in the pit is fast increasing and the bears are now savagely raiding the market.

The condition of affairs on 'Change this afternoon is terrible. Kershaw & Co. are officially posted as having failed to go through the clearing house. This means their collapse. The immediate cause of the failure was due to Rosenfeld & Co., who garnished Kershaw's account in the American Exchange National bank.

Cleveland's Square Back Down.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16.—The following letter was sent the secretary of war by the president in regard to the disposition of the flags captured by the union forces during the late war:

I have considered with more care than when the subject was orally presented me the action of your department directing letters to be addressed to the governors of all the states offering to return if desired to the loyal states the union flags captured during the war of the rebellion by the confederate forces, and afterwards recovered by the government troops, and to the confederate states the flags captured by the union forces, all of which for many years have been packed in boxes and stored in the cellar and attic of the war department. I am of the opinion that the return of the flags in the manner thus contemplated is not authorized by existing law nor justified as an executive act. I request, therefore, that no further steps be taken in the matter, except to examine and inventory these flags and adopt proper measures for their preservation. Any direction as to the final disposition of them should originate with congress. Yours truly.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

Still Very Uneasy.

CHICAGO, June 16.—The range in prices in wheat to-day was narrow and business was extremely light. Most of the firms on change were refusing business, owing to the muddled state into which their accounts have been thrown by the wild fluctuations and numerous failures of the last few days. Several conservative concerns declared that no more orders would be executed by them until books and accounts had been straightened out.

Confidence has not yet been restored, though it is thought the worst is over, and that no new failures are imminent. The oft repeated promise of Kershaw & Co. that funds would be forthcoming were again renewed to-day, but they fell with no effect on the ears of the crowds. The announcement at the close of business of the failure of John J. Bryant caused a little weakness in both wheat and corn, but is only temporary.

The Lutheran Synod.

WATSONTOWN, Pa., June 16.—The morning session of the synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church was occupied in the reception of law delegates and the reading of parochial reports. Eleven new churches were reported to have been dedicated during the past year. The report on the councilmen of the church and school at Selinsgrove occasioned a sharp debate and resulted in the unanimous passing favorably upon the institution's course and work. The synod elected the fellowing officers for the current synodical year: Rev. J. A. Wirt, Hughesville, president; Rev. J. C. Schindel, Mt. Carmel, secretary; J. C. Hill, Williamsport, treasurer.

The Carrier Must Choose.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—The interstate commerce commission rendered to-night its long expected decision upon the fourth section of the inter-state commerce act which prohibits a greater change for the transportation of passengers and property over shorter than over longer distance in same direction under substantially similar circumstances and conditions. The commissioners say the carrier must judge for itself what are the substantially similar circumstances and conditions which preclude the special rate rebate or drawback which is made unlawful by the second section since no tribunal is empowered to judge for it until after the carrier has acted, and then only for purpose of determining whether its action constitutes a violation of the law.

A Fatal Tornado.

GRAND FORKS, Dak., June 18.—This city was visited with a destructive tornado yesterday afternoon. The storm came from the west and traveled due east. Twenty-five or more buildings, including the Catholic church and the university of North Dakota were blown to the ground. The laboratory and museum in the university were almost totally destroyed, besides hundreds of smaller dwellings, store-houses and sheds.

The following were killed outright: Mrs. Follett, Mrs. Davis, mother of Mrs Follett; Flora Starbird, 12 years old; ——Gummerson, a man, in East Grand Forks. The seriously injured were: Mrs. A. Starbird and child; Mrs. Ed. Tierney and two children; Mrs. J. Andrews and two children; Mrs. Talton and two children; Mrs. Guyot and daughter, at the university of North Dakota.

In East Grand Forks fourteen business buildings were destroyed, and both bridges across the river were swept away. The total loss is estimated at $100,000. The train from the north was blown from the track, about four miles out, and rolled over a couple of times. No one was killed, but several passengers were severely injured. During the storm last night Halvar Leland, of Walle township, was killed. The storm is reported quite severe at Manvel and Ardock, where buildings were blown away. The Andrews family had their house blown to pieces and carried one hundred feet. Ed. Tierney's house was overturned and his wife injured. The children were carried one hundred and fifty feet, but escaped serious injury. One of them, six years of age, was carried across the railroad track and lay there during the whole storm.

C. A. Myerstrom is dangerously hurt about the head.

A Burning Steamer.

DETROIT, June 17.—The steamer Champlain, of the Northern Michigan line, bound for Cheboygan from Chicago, burned at midnight between Norwood and Charlevoix. The boat was running ten miles an hour, when the flames suddenly shot up from beneath the engine. The alarm was given, the sleeping passengers aroused, and when the life preservers were distributed to all, they gathered on the forward deck. Two life boats and life rafts were lowered, but the steamer was running so fast that they got away in ten minutes from the time the boat caught fire. The passengers were all compelled to jump into the lake.

There were fifty-seven persons on board including the crew. The lost are as follows: Ella Cooper Smith, Robert Wilkes, George Wristley, of Charlevoix; Mrs. R. W. Kehoe, R. M. McKal, Stewart Beans, two children, aged 3 and 5 years, of Chicago; Captain Lucas, of Petoskey; Henry Brennan, the clerk, and a fireman and second cook and cabin boy, of Chicago; Mr. Russell, of Jackson, Mich.; a gentleman and boy, from Milwaukee, bound for Mackin; one waiter, four Indian deck hands; a lady and daughter, from Frankfort, names unknown.

Those saved floated an hour and a half when they were rescued by yawl and fish boats from the shore. Several of those saved were badly burned. There are seven not accounted for in the list of lost, it comprising only those known to have perished. The boat burned to the hull and has been towed here.

Editor O'Brien.

DUBLIN, June 16.—Mr. O'Brien, the editor of United Ireland, who arrived at Queenstown to-day on the steamer Adriatic, from New York, received an ovation upon leaving the vessel. Scores of deputations from various places in Ireland, together with long contingents from Cork and Queenstown, were at the dock to greet him and escort him to the Queen's hotel. An immense crowd gathered in front of the building and Mr. O'Brien, in response to repeated calls for a speech appeared on a balcony and briefly addressed them, alluding to his American experience and thanking them for their cordial reception. Mr. O'Brien after receiving addresses from the deputations this afternoon, started for Cork, where he will be tendered the freedom of the city. When the Adriatic passed Crook Haven last night she was greeted by bonfires all along the coast as a welcome by the people to Editor O'Brien.

Gov. Beaver's Doings.

HARRISBURG, June 15.—Governor Beaver has approved the letter creating additional law judges in the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Forty-fifth and Forty-eighth districts. He has also approved the appropriation for the Gettysburg memorial tablets, with the exception of $10,000 for the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial association.

Governor Beaver has granted a respite to William James McMeen, the Juniata county wife-murder, who was to be hanged on June 23, until July 7, to enable the case to be heard by the board of pardons.

The Last.

HARRISBURG, June 17.—The Governor acted on the last of the bills in his possession to-day, vetoing a number of appropriation bills. He also vetoed the grade crossing bill for cities of the first and second classes, and the act authorizing borough councils to levy and collect license tax.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 16.—The report has just reached here of the cyclone at at Grand Rapids, Dakota. Four men have been killed.

Briefs.

CRISFIELD, Md., June 16.—Dow Mister, a well known young citizen of this village, to-day shot and killed Elijah H. Sterling, his intimate friend. It seems that Mister and one named Robert Ford were rivals for the affections of a village belle. Ford was not the favored suitor and had threatened to kill Mister. The latter met Sterling early this morning and supposing him to be Ford shot and instantly killed him. Mister gave himself up to the police.

LONDON, June 16.—Mr. Blaine arrived at Southampton to-day and will probably remain in that city for a few days. He refuses to disclose his programme. All his party are well. Pendleton, minister to Germany, met the party at the wharf and conducted them to their hotel.

BUFFALO, June 16.—The trial of Hattie Penseyrer, for the murder of her husband, Emil, ended to-day with a verdict of murder in the second degree. The prisoner was overcome with grief and wept bitterly.

PITTSBURG, June 16.—It is said to-night that the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers will pass a resolution prohibiting their members from becoming Knights of Labor.

—James G. Blaine has reached England where he is received as few other American citizens have been. Invitations and courtesies are coming in upon him more rapidly than he can attend to them. Some people, who of course do not understand his exalted position as an American private citizen, call him Sir James Blaine, which they suppose necessary partly because his fellow-countrymen call him the "Plumed Knight."

Though Shaken Like a Leaf

By the most trivial causes, weak nerves are easily susceptible of invigoration, a term which also imports, in this instance, quietude. The nervous have but to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters systematically to overcome that super-sensitiveness of the human sensorium, which is subversive of all bodily comfort and mental tranquility, and which reacts most hurtfully upon the system. The difficulty underlying this, as well as many other ailments, is imperfect assimilation, no less than incomplete digestion of the food. In the discharge of both the digestive and assimilative functions, the Bitters are the most potent, the most reliable auxiliary. As the body regains vigor and regularity by its aid, the brain and nervous system are also benefited. Persons subject to the influence of malaria, dyspeptic and rheumatic invalids, and persons whose kidneys are inactive, should, also, use the Bitters.

—The Rafteman's Journal, the organ and able representative of the Republican party in Clearfield county, has moved into "elegant new quarters in Mossop's block" and has added a Cottrell cylinder newspaper press to the equipment of the office. We congratulate the Journal on this sure evidence of its prosperity.

ASTONISHING SUCCESS.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, Severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Drugists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in the United States and Canada.

—Many of the teachers are delighted at the suggestion made by Principal D. M. Lieb that teachers shall be paid in proportion to their experience. This would insure for them $100 per month. And if good looks and engaging manners be taken into consideration their salaries would be enormous.

THE GORDIAN KNOT.

MISS ANNIE BROOKS AND MR. T. C. BELL JOIN HEARTS AND HANDS.

About forty persons, largely composed of young people, gathered on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. Richard Brooks near Pleasant Gap. It was the occasion of a wedding ceremony and consequently everybody was on the tip-toe of delightful anticipation.

At 5 o'clock Miss Bell Rupert, of Zion, took her seat at the instrument and the strains of a lively wedding march hushed the animated conversation to silence. The wedding party moved down the stairway and into the apartment where the company had gathered.

The bride was Miss Annie Brooks and the groom Mr. T. C. Bell. There were two attending couples—Miss Annie Bell, of State College, with Mr. Samuel Brooks, and Miss Annie Wagner, of this place with Mr. James Williams, of Harris' hardware store. The bride was beautifully attired in a coffee colored satin duchess. Rev. Mr. Sarvis, of the Methodist church, spoke the words which made them husband and wife.

The bride is a bright, accomplished and very pretty young lady. She looked unusually charming at this particular time. The groom is a stalwart and exceedingly handsome young gentleman, of genial disposition and pleasing manners. The congratulations which were showered upon the bride and groom were spoken with more than ordinary earnestness and with a depth of meaning which left no doubt of their sincerity.

After the excitement had again subsided the company were bidden to a splendid collation, and an hour or more was spent in an appreciative attention to the various delicacies with which the table was laden.

Soon after supper, the bride and groom entered a conveyance and went on their way to their new home near State College. A house, all furnished and ready for their occupancy, awaited them there. The company, occupying fifteen conveyances,went with them most of the distance, composing a wedding party, which in proportions and general joyousness is quite unusual. Doubtless, people who saw the merry couples passing along in the gloaming night have supposed that half the county had been to the marriage altar.

This paper begs to join with other friends in wishes for the happiness of the wedded couple. May all their future experience in life be as pleasant as a June morning.

Soldiers' Reunion.

On Wednesday next, the 22d instant, this town will be taken by storm. The attacking and conquering party will be the 184th regiment, P. V. They will come in bright uniforms, in large numbers and with bold and indomitable spirits. Of course, when they have taken the town they will have great rejoicing, and will assemble in Gregg Post hall to consult as to future movements. The first meeting will be at 11 o'clock a. m. After a good dinner they will be prepared to meet again at 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon, to discuss any subject which may be prominent in their minds and to fix a place for the next meeting. This is the first time the members of the 184th have been together since the "late unpleasantness" and they expect this meeting will be more agreeable than the other one. Major Kleckner, of Philadelphia, and Captain Jones, of Gettysburg, are expected to be here. We hope that all pleasant anticipations may be more than realized, and Orderly Joshua Folk, who belonged to it, will do all he can to contribute to the success.

County Affairs

The Democratic papers of this coutry are greatly concerned because the Republican member of the Board of County commissioners is such an able gentleman. We are always willing to associate the members of the Board together and when good results are shown to give the credit to the Board, irrespective of politics. But Democrats are all so narrow-minded and jealous that they cannot bear to share any credit with the Republican member, consequently circumstances compell us to tell the truth in this connection.

If the Democrats had been permitted to go on in their own way the county would still be hopelessly in debt. But the suggestions, plans and advice which resulted in economy and freedom from debt all emanated in the mind of the Republican member. It is thewise policy of Henry C. Campbell and J. C. Henderson which followed to its legitimate conclusion, has accomplished such excellent results. In brief, if the county finances were as completely in the control of the Republicans as those of the National government were for a long time,the same prosperity would attend the affairs of the county.

Wedded in the Church.

A marriage ceremony of a beautiful and impressive description was witnessed on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in St. John's Roman Catholic church. Mr. James A. McCafferty was married to Miss Mary J. Howley by Rev. P. McArdle. The attendants were Miss Kate Pearl as bridesmaid and Mr. William Howley as groomsman. The groom is a tall, handsome young gentleman and the bride a lovely young lady. Both the bride and her maid were attired tastefully in white, and the group at the marriage altar presented a picture so captivating as to create longing in the breast of every young lady and gentleman present to take part in a similar proceeding. The happy couple received their friends after the ceremony at the home of the bride.

The Meeting of State Teachers in Clearfield.

The annual meeting of the teachers of this State in Clearfield on July 5th, 6th and 7th presents unusual attractions and we advise teachers and others in Bellefonte who can do so to attend the gathering. We are of opinion that Clearfield is a pleasant place of sojourn in summer. The society there is unusually excellent, while the town itself is as rural as anyone could possibly desire. In scanning the literary bill-of-fare prepared for the occasion, placed in our hands by Prof. D. M. Lieb, we are delighted and wish that we could go to get a taste of it. The teachers will be welcomed, not only warmly, but also with a flow of rhetoric, Thomas H. Murray, Esq., and ex-United States Senator William A. Wallace, being designated to assist Superintendent Matt Savage in tendering them that hospitality. The response will be made by E. O. Lyte, Principal of the Millersville State Normal School. It is impossible for us to even touch upon the different themes which are to be treated by experts, but we have an idea that the very best talent in the public and normal schools of the country will be present, and that means an aggregation that cannot be excelled anywhere. We notice that among the evening lectures will be "The Earth," to be delivered on Tuesday evening by Dr. T. C. Mendenhall, of Terre Haute, Ind., and "On the Wing," a famous lecture by Dr. A. A. Willits, of Louisville, Ky. The latter will be the attraction on Wednesday evening. Persons who desire to go should apply for orders to J. Fletcher Sickel, Ticket agent, Germantown, Pa. Enclose a stamp with order. Do not defer the matter later than June 30. Tickets will be good from July 2 until July 16.

Lutheran Statistics.

During the session of the Lutheran Synod in Omaha on Friday,the 10th,the committee on apportiontment reported. They report apportioning amounts among the Synods and for the purposes as follows: Foreign mission $60,000, Home Mission $65,000, Church Extension $60,000,Synod Treasury $5,000. The statistical secretary, the Rev. S. Stall, submitted his report for two years. It was as follows: Parochial churches, 1,245; stations,185. Losses—by death, 2,218; certificate, 2,799; excommunication, 1,040. Accessions—Infant baptism, 9,182; adult baptism, 3,041; confirmation, 8,153; certificate, 4,060; restoration, 685. Communicant membership, 134,710. Value of church property, $6,551,017; indebtedness, $408,592,51; local expenses for all objects, $682,362.84. In the matter of Sunday-schools the report showed 326 union; 922 Lutheran; 19,026 officers and teachers and 127,370 scholars. Members of children missionary society 10,115. In the matter of benevolence he reported as follows: General Synod, $2,245.05; Synodical treasury, $4,695.67; Home Missions, $27,954.37; Foreign Missions, $25,112.28; Church Extension, $19,293.67; Beneficiary Education, $14,650.20; Woman's Missionary Society, $15,127.93; Pastor's fund, $1,649.53; Orphan's Homes, $3,813.29; External objects, $41,977.58: Total benevolence, $146,312.98. Allegheny City was selected as the place for the next meeting of the Synod.

—Wallace & Co's great world's railroad show, menagerie, museum and international three-ring circus arrived in town from Philipsburg early Friday morning and by half-past seven o'clock all the cars were unloaded and taken in the direction of the Fair ground where the exhibition was then held. The impression made by the appearance of the stock and cages and the very beautiful and novel street parade was most favorable. The press manager, Mr. Willis Cobb, is a first-class gentleman, with a ministerial air,and gives his entire attention towards making it agreeable for editors and other distinguished people who visit his show.

—Of course, we will have to go to Centre Hall on the Fourth of July. That is the nearest place where there is to be a big celebration. There will be a fantastic parade, a balloon ascension, match game of base ball, excursions from surrounding towns, etc. A committee consisting of W. B. Mingle, J. D. Murray, Jas. C. Boal, D. J. Meyer, W. P. Shoop, Dr. J. F. Alexander and Chas. Kurtz, is arranging all the details.

—We are authorized by citizens of Milesburg to state that capitalists who will locate boiler works or any other manufacturing industry in that town will be given a two-acre site free. Milesburg is an excellent place for any industry, it being on the line of railroad, level and possessing excellent water power. Whatever helps Milesburg will also help Bellefonte.

—The Pennsylvania railroad bridge over the Conemaugh at Johnstown is of iron and 250 feet in length. Despite its huge proportions, it was successfully moved seventy-five feet down the river one day this week, to make room for a new bridge which is to be built. The moving of the bridge is considered one of the greatest engineering feats on record.

"Watched" by Miners.

MR. HARRY C. VALENTINE RECEIVES ANOTHER VALUABLE PRESENT.

Thursday was pay day at the ore mines of the Valentine Ore Land Association, and about the last official act of Mr. H. C. Valentine, the retiring superintendent, was to pay off the employes.

The ore men, choosing that occasion as the most fitting, had arranged without his knowledge to assemble from all the ore banks at the new "wash ore mine" now being erected under his supervision, and while bidding him goodbye at the same time wishing him a hearty "God speed" in his new undertaking.

Two hundred or more had gathered, and after Mr. Valentine had finished paying off he was called up and in language expressing regret at parting and appreciation of his uniform integrity and fairness in his dealings with them, Messrs. Thos. Dunkle and James Simmonds, on behalf of the men assembled, presented him with a beautiful and costly gold watch and chain, with his monogram engraved on the outside and inside the following inscription: "Presented to H. C. Valentine by the ore miners of V. O. L. A., 1887."

Mr. Valentine, in accepting the gift, passed, as it were, in review, the prominent features and incidents of the business, in the labor for which many of those before him had grown gray, and reminded them feelingly of many sad accidents that have occurred in which more than one steady workman had laid down his life. He thanked them warmly for their thoughtfulness and regard and said that he placed a value upon the gift far above any price.

Mr. C. A. Harte, secretary of V. O. L. A., made an appropriate closing address, and the men separated with light hearts to take up the work they had laid down for a time.

Only ten days previous the puddlers and rollers of the same firm gave Mr. V. a handsome gold-headed cane, and this last gift following shows the feelings and honor the men hold him in better than mere words can express.

Robbers and Murderers in Huntingdon County.

Huntingdon county was the scene of another tragedy on Thursday morning, the home of the Hawn Brothers in Juniata township, being the place where it was enacted. Only one of the Hawn Brothers survives and he is an old man. The house is occupied by Peter Hawn, Mr. and Mrs. George Auker (Mr. Auker being an adopted son) and Miss Katie Bush, an aged woman, who is the housekeeper. Both of the men were away from the house when three men with revolvers, entered. Two of the men wore masks and had their faces blackened. Meeting the housekeeper first, they demanded money. She told them there was none in the house, but they dragged her violently through several rooms. Meanwhile, a man named Christ. Steinmetz, hearing the noise, appeared upon the scene. Mrs. Auker also found a revolver and took it to her husband who was at work in the field. When he arrived he shot one of the intruders in or immediately below the left eye and was shot by the robber in the lung just above the heart. It is feared that Auker will die. The would-be robbers escaped, though it is believed that at least one of them (the man who was wounded) will be captured.

Mrs. Auker's assailant is described as tall and very thin with sandy moustache. He wore a black slouch hat, blue Chesterfield coat and blue drilling pants.

Another was more genteel looking, with a black cut-a-way coat, light pants and low laced shoes. His face was smooth. The third is short in stature and was dressed in a dark blue flannel shirt, brown coat and pants. He had a light moustache.

Silk Industry in This Country and England.

In view of the lively competition between towns in the eastern part of Pennsylvania to secure silk mills, it is instructive to note what Robert P. Porter, writes from England concerning the decline of the silk industry in London. He found in Spitalfields an old weaver and son, who, working from six in the morning till ten at night, earned about $5 a week between them. The elder recalled the time when they earned from $15 to $20. The cause of the decline was first the reciprocity treaty with France, then free trade, which allowed the competition of the cheap labor of Germany, and finally the craze for cheap and inferior goods. Before this the weavers in the East end of London used annually 12,000,000 pounds of silk; now they use about 3,000,000. The growth of the silk industry in the United States cotemporaneous with the decay of it in England is one of the interresting facts of the time.

Good and Bad.

The Wallace & Co. circus, in town on Friday, gave two excellent exhibitions. But the trouble with the show is that it tries to get through too cheap and in one instance was dishonest—for the sake of $5. As usual, a license was charged for the purpose of parading through the town. An order was given on the treasurer of the show. When this order was taken to the treasurer for collection he refused to honor it. As the amount was small (only $5) the Chief Burgess made no trouble, but desires that other towns shall be notified so that the money may be collected before the parade takes place. He personally notified the Chief Burgess of Tyrone. This was the smallest sum ever charged a circus in Bellefonte for the privilege of parading, and this is the first instance in which payment was refused. It will not pay the circus to endeavor to sail through so cheap; nor to act dishonestly, for only $5.

Music at State College.

Competent judges of music inform us that the orchestra, composed of students belonging to the State College, has acquired wonderful skill and is now the best orchestra in the State outside the large cities. It is under the leadership of Mr. Frank Atherton, a son of Dr. Atherton, the President. It consists of eight pieces. The leader, Mr. Atherton, is a real genius in music and can play any instrument or any composition.

The orchestra will render the music for the coming commencement exercises amd will then be heard by many of the people in the county. Its part of the exercises will be among the most attractive.

—The astronomer of the Tyrone Daily Herald has been leveling his glass at the space between the two heavenly constellations,Cassiopeia and Capheus,where the star of Bethlehem is said to be, and announces that he cannot see it or any star of the kind described. With much profundity and logic he reasons that if the star is not there it is useless to discuss the question whether it is the real Star of Bethlehem or not. The sage remark, "First catch your hare then cook it," is quoted in support of his reasoning. We advise our readers to wait until the Herald astronomer discovers the star and gives his verdict on it; that will be conclusive.

Letter List.

Following is a complete list of the letters remaining uncalled for in the post-office at Bellefonte,Centre county,Penn'a, June 13, 1887:

C. C. Auman, Rob't Baum, Miss Lizzie Felty, Miss Louisa Grumbaugh, John Leaty, Mrs. Anna Landis, Wm. McCann, Geo. W. Norman, Dr. L. C. Pratt, German Rider, Mrs. Emma Smith, Mrs. Sadie Sanders, ——Swiler, George Tibbins, Geo. Wells, Wm. Wyce.

Persons inquiring for letters named in the above list will please say advertised.

JAS. H. DOBBINS, P. M.

—The people of Nittany and Sugar valleys are trying to secure as far as possible free right of way for the proposed railroad line through that part of Clinton county. On Tuesday night a meeting was held in Clintondale and on Wednesday at Mackeyville. Near that place a site for a depot has been selected on Mr. John Solt's farm. The surveyed route is through Sugar valley to Tylersville, thence through the gap in the mountain to Mill Hall via of Washington Furnace, Clintendale and Mackeyville.

—The market on Saturday was first-rate, including everything that anyone could desire. Very fine strawberries and cherries were for sale, solid and fresh—just the kind to buy to last through Sunday. It is always true that though a better berry than the strawberry might have been made it is certain there never was. Eggs were at market quite plentifully. Then there were lettuce, beets and radishes. The beets were surprisingly large for so early in the season.

A Young Man at 87.

Very few of the people of this place who saw the gentleman walking Thursday with Hon. J. Blair Linn, Captain Austin Curtin and other citizens were aware that he is 87 years of age. He is of average height, carries himself erect, is quick in his movements and is apparently only in middle age. He is Judge J. Walls of Lewisburg, and at his advanced age is a remarkable specimen of excellent preservation.

—Thomas M. Reese, son of Rev. T. M. Reese, deceased, and Elizabeth Reese, died at Port Matilda, Pa., on Tuesday, in the 34th year of his age. The funeral took place in Altoona on Thursday, the funeral party arriving on the way passenger train at 1.40 p. m. Deceased leaves a wife and two children.

—It is certainly very strange that the lower part of this county should be so infested with slugs or garden snails. They are said to be doing great damage to vegetation of all kinds. They are more numerous in Bellefonte than we have ever known them to be before, cutting off plants of all kinds just above the ground and consequently causing the plants to die.

BLOOMINGTON, ILLS., Sept. 18, 1882.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.: Have taken Hall's Catarrh Cure. Had catarrh all my life; am 48 years old. Had asthma 19 years, and a dreadful cough for five years. Have taken everything; went to the Hot Springs; I have doctored with the doctors here; I have done nothing but take medicine for 19 years. When I commenced using Hall's Catarrh Cure I was almost dead. I sent for the doctor the day I got Hall's Catarrh Cure, and I told him that I would try your medicine. I was very bad. How I suffered for 9 years! I could hardly breathe at times. I saw Hall's Catarrh Cure advertised in the papers and commenced taking it. I would have been under the ground to-day if it had not been for that. I have not had one bad spell of coughing since. In breathing my head feels well and I am well. It has done me a thousand dollars worth of good. There are ten of my friends, on seeing what it had done for me, taking it, and it is helping them. I only wish that every one who has catarrh, asthma and a bad cough could see me, so that I could tell them all to take it. All that know me here know how I have suffered. (I have been here since 1858,) and say to me that "I am so glad you found something that could cure you." Everyone says, "How much better you look." The doctors say they are glad I found Hall's Catarrh Cure as they could not cure me.

I cannot express my gratitude to you for the good Hall's Catarrh Cure has done me. You can use as much of this letter as will do the afflicted good. Publish it to the whole world—it is all true and they should know it.

JOSEPHINE CHRISMAN,
406 East North street.

—Overseer of the Poor James Schofield desires us to return the thanks of the borough to the Ladies' Association in this place which enabled him, some time ago to find a home with a family in Lock Haven for a small lad in his care. He has heard from the boy and the boy's new protectors and all are well satisfied.

—Mr. Thomas Reese, of Port Matilda, died on Tuesday of consumption. He is a son of Rev. Dr. Reese, formerly a presiding-elder of the Methodist church and well known here. Mrs. Tietsworth of Shamokin, formerly Miss Bess Reese, passed through Bellefonte on Wednesday en route to the funeral of her brother.

—The Millheim Journal contradicts the report that snails are so numerous in the lower part of this county. The story is merely sensational. There is entirely too much sensational stuff manufactured here of late and sent abroad.

If you would enjoy your dinner and are prevented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents.

—No lack of rain this season.

—Some hail fell during the storm on Sunday.

—Tuesday will be the longest day in the year.

—Hay-making is being attempted between showers.

—The hand organ man ground out music Monday morning.

—Saturday's Tyrone Herald came to us dated Thursday, June 18.

—In the South the weather is hotter than it has been before for ten years.

—Colored fire was burned in front of the Brockerhoff on Saturday evening.

—The rain which fell on Sunday afternoon was perhaps the heaviest of the Summer.

—Friday next is the day known in the church calendar as the feast of St. John the Baptist.

—The Bellefonte Academy students and teachers will picnic at Snow Shoe Intersection to-day.

—Mr. John P. Harris is excavating for the foundation of a dwelling house on East Lamb street.

—The copious showers of rain put quite a damper on the building operations in this place.

—Miss Annie Dickinson, at one time Queen of the Rostrum, is seriously ill at her home near Scranton.

—The members of the 184th regiment were in town Wednesday. Some of them look particularly fine in their handsome uniforms.

—Major John M. Pomeroy, for many years editor and proprietor of the Chambersburg Repository, died suddenly on Monday.

—The tramp printer put in appearance on Tuesday, but one hour's work was all that he could endure! Poor fellow, the heat was too great!

—A new military company is being organized at Altoona. A meeting was held Tuesday evening to sign the muster roll and elect officers.

—The most important individual in existence is the college graduate and the loveliest is the sweet girl graduate. Both are now in their glory.

—Erastus Hinckley, a brakeman on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, was instantly killed on the railroad near Montoursville, Lycoming county, on Saturday.

—Rev. Mr. Wood, of Lock Haven, is to hold an Episcopal service in the Beech Creek Presbyterian church on next Sunday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, says the Lock Haven Express.

—A shooting affair occurred at Lock Haven on Tuesday, two families quarreling about a cow. A small girl thought that a man had too much chin and tried to shoot some of it off.

—Mr. Francis Speer changes his walking stick with the fashions. He has abandoned the gold headed cane which he formerly used and has adopted one that is quite substantial.

—Miss Irene Hoyt, who contested the will of her millionaire father, is having a high old time in Englewood, N. J. She scolds everybody, pummeled a servant, attacked a policeman, tore up the commitment papers at the justice's office and at length was confined in jail.

OUR EDUCATIONAL PRIVILEGES.

WHAT HAS BEEN, IS BEING AND MAY BE DONE FOR THE YOUTH OF THIS VICINITY.

"Knowledge is the bulwark of our country. It is the basis of her government, the source of her glory, and the prop of her institutions. The most illustrious men of this and other ages sprang from the humbler classes of mankind, and genius does for them what wealth and station can not do for others."

It is always interesting and gratifying to notice the progress made in the course of education. For all will realize the fact that where there is good education there are intelligent communities, and as a natural result happiness and prosperity. And no where in the Keystone State can we find a town that affords better facilities for Academic and State education than our own beautiful town of Bellefonte. The free schools, under the superintendence of a graduate of one of our best colleges, of acknowledged executive tact and culture, with a corps of capable and faithful teachers under him, have been raised to such a standard of educational work as compares fairly with that of any other schools in the State. The graduates of this school every year, so far as they are permitted to be advanced in their studies by the regular outlined course of public school work, evince considerable knowledge and ability, and were they offered more advanced privileges would undoubtedly hold their own wherever their lot might be cast. The excellent and attractive school conveniences now being afforded to these scholars, coupled with the faithful instruction provided, guarantees grand results in this sphere of educational work.

Advancing one step higher, we remember the long established reputation earned by the Bellefonte Academy, by reason of the high standing that its graduates always maintain in the first colleges of the country, and the responsible and trustworthy positions in business that they ever prove themselves able to fill. With its higher order of studies, the Academy supplies an important and essential step between the high school and the college, which is not provided for, by reason of circumstances, in any other way—and so there is no stone left unturned. A mere glance at the programme of this year's examinations published in the recent issues of this paper will at once show that the pupils of the Academy are instructed in some of the studies pursued in the Freshman year at colleges—as for instance, Trigonometry, Philosophy, Homer. So that it is a matter of great satisfaction to those interested in education to know that the children of Bellefonte can receive satisfactory High School, Academic and Collegiate education within a radius of twelve miles, for at that distance we have a college which now has a reputation for thorough work, and with the increased facilities that it is soon to enjoy promises very flattering results. No step remains to be taken, apparently, to offer every advantage in culture to our children right at home, thus making it not only delightful to be able to well educate our children without sending them away, but even as a matter of expense a very acceptable provision.

And why should Bellefonte not be an educational centre? It has general intelligence and activity as prominent characteristics of its people; it has all the healthy and delightful surroundings that nature can afford, and besides there is no prominent educational centre within a radius of one hundred miles. Our State College is just on the eve of grand improvements; our new public school building will soon be completed to adorn the town. Now, why don't our public spirited citizens come to the front with their money, and while they are rejoicing in the business improvements of the town show their desire for an educational boom as well, by raising a sum of money that would convert the old Academy building into a superior boarding school that would attract to our town some forty or fifty boarders annually and thus not only advance our interests in ways that are profitable and elevating, but also in a financial way?

In some towns of not a third of the wealth of Bellefonte there stand glorious monuments of educational enterprise. Why should we, so far ahead in other elements of progress, lag behind in that which effects the future interests of our Commonwealth? for what effects the welfare of the children of to-day materially affects the welfare of the men and women of to-morrow. Never was there a more opportune time than the present to boom such an enterprise. Now let some enthusiastic party step forth and push forward such a scheme, and he will not only confer a boom upon all concerned, but will make his name memorable.

EDUCATION.

—What sight in nature or art could be more sublime, beautiful or awe-inspiring than that made on Saturday night about ten o'clock by the play of lightning just above the eastern horizon? The sky was moonless and dark, but there all was light and glory. No firework ever made could equal it in sublimity and true grandeur. Sometimes the banks of ragged, jutting clouds were all illuminated with a flood of quivering, flashing light, and after only an instant's darkness several flashes, moving with incredible swiftness and intensely bright, would appear here and there, making the heaviest clouds look like towering fortications behind which might be an army with banners and cannon pouring forth a destructive fire. So intense was the light in places that it would seem to be a glow of quivering fire, as in a deep furnace, as quickly to disappear and reappear in some other place. This grand scene of heavenly pyrotechnics lasted half an hour, and was witnessed by many living in the more elevated portions of the borough. Could it be repeated on the night of July 4, it would pale into insignificance any device of man that may be used at that time to celebrate independence.

A Gay-lorious Time in England.

Special cablegram to the Daily News.

LONDON, June 21—1.30 p. m.—DEAR FRIEND:—I have time only to give you a little information to-day in regard to the happiest event England ever experienced. The Queen's jubilee began yesterday and will continue all week.

The Queen put on her royal robes and sat in state. She attracted a great deal of attention and received ten room-fulls of presents. But the truth is that Queen Kapiolani looked just as magnificent and on one or two occasions was mistaken for Victoria. That handsome peacock gown made for her in New York enables her to cut a great swell.

Mr. Blaine is here and looked at the Jubilee. He wore a diamond-studded scarf pin made in the shape of the American eagle and carried an American flag. The Queen considers Mr. Blaine the most powerful man in America—sort of a Warwick who can make and unmake Presidents. She sent for him to have a personal audience. Report says that she asked him to succeed Salisbury as her Prime Minister. Mr. Blaine glanced affectionately at the American eagle and replied: "DEAR MADAME: The only way I can ever be persuaded to rule over England can be brought about by England herself. If Great Britain and the Empire of India will unite with Canada in becoming a part of the United States in 1889, when I shall become the President, I will see to it that you are made postmistress of New York City and your sleep will be much sounder at nights than at present."

The Queen looked displeased just for a minute and then recovering her animation she said: "Oh, you naughty, naughty man, go away from me at once!" As James went out the American eagle screamed.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

Death of Mr. Richard Thomas.

At 10.30 o'clock on Monday morning an event happened in Philadelphia the announcement of which will cause sadness to all who have heard it or will read it in this notice. Mr. Richard Thomas, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Thomas, was a life-long resident of this place. It is not too much to say that while Richard Thomas, familiarly known as "Dick," was in the flush of his early manhood there was not a better known person in the town, or one more admired for sunny, genial, dashing qualities. The promises of a bright boyhood were fulfilled in his after life. As a young man he was endowed with every physical excellence. He was the personification of all that was attractive and winning, and he possessed superior business abilities.

It was therefore with great distress that loving friends beheld the early decay of physical and mental powers. Two or three times during his illness he seemed near death's door, but revived. Last Saturday his last severe illness began. He went down to the brink of the dark river and was carried by the pale boatman over to the other shore, death occuring at 10.30 o'clock Monday. On the 22d day of last Feburary he was 32 years of age.

—A Miss Grassmire, who we believe is employed at the home of Gov. James A. Beaver in this place, was at Snow Shoe Intersection on Monday, and in some way fell on the railroad track in front of a moving car. She would have been seriously hurt by the cars had not a tramp who was near by rushed forward and pulled her from the track. All honor to the manly tramp!

FOUR TO ONE.

AN ENJOYABLE BASE BALL GAME BETWEEN STATE COLLEGE AND LOCK HAVEN NINES.

The State College Base Ball club departed on Saturday morning for Lock Haven to test their skill with the club of that city. They were well received by the members of the club, being escorted through the city and otherwise treated in a very handsome manner. The game was called as early as 1.30 o'clock p. m. to permit the State College club to return as far as Bellefonte on the train leaving Lock Haven at 3.40 o'clock. This very early and hot hour prevented a large crowd from assembling to witness what proved to be an excellent game. The grounds were in bad condition, owing to rains the previous night, and imperfect drainage. The game was a good one all the way through, the principal features of it being the pitching of Mitchell, the base running of Mock, Brew and Petriken and the batting of Brew and Rose. Although the game was not a long one the club was fifteen minutes late to the train and would have been "left" in at least one respect but for the kindness of Superintendent S. S. Blair, who held the train at Lock Haven that long and who also stopped the train at the Buffalo Run Railroad Junction to permit the students to change cars. There the Buffalo Run train awaited them, for which kindness Mr. T. V. Shoemaker has their thanks. The score is given in the following.

Council Notes.

The gentlemen who assembled for the regular meeting of borough council on Monday evening constituted a quorum—and only a quorum, without one to spare. There seems to be less interest displayed by the present council than by any former one in the matter of attendance.

There was, apparently, very little borough business of pressing importance, as "nothing," was generally the reply when a report of a committee was called for. Among the items of business which received attention were the following:

Mr. Brew reported that the work on Willow Bank street and Reynolds avenue on the laying of the water pipes is proceeding satisfactorily.

The fire and police committee reported that new uniforms have been purchased for the police.

It is stated that the carpenters will begin work on the Undine hose house on Tuesday.

The market fees during two weeks were $5.70.

On motion, the rate of taxation adopted was: 3 mills for borough purposes, 2 mills for street purposes and 10 mills for interest.

A Double Wedding.

The account given below of the marriage of Mr. Finley E. Johnston, son of Ex-Postmaster John T. Johnston, is from the Daily Commonwealth, of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, of the 16th inst:

At the residence of Geo. W. Kellond, corner of Fourth and Harney streets, Fond du Lac, on Wednesday, June 15, at 2 p. m., Miss Kate Kellond was married to Mr. Finley E. Johnston, and Miss Tillie Justen to Mr. James Kellond, Rev. S. T. Kidder officiating. The parties to the double contract are well known in Fond du Lac, and bear the good will of their friends. In marriage it is hard to outline a future, but in these cases it is safe to say the sterling qualities exhibited by the young people united would indicate not only a happy but progressive and successful future. The first named couple have gone to their home on Superior street, and will enter upon their house keeping work at once. Mr. and Mrs. James Kellond left the city last evening for a week's tour, after which they return to their home on the same street, only a block away, and enter upon like duties. Present at the marriage were family guests only.

—Joe Furey is getting worse than ever since he went to that demoralized city of Lock Haven. He don't name himself as one of the Sunday crowd who went over the Beech Creek Railroad on Sunday to Clearfield, but of course he must be the person. Then he tells the readers of the Democrat what he saw on Sunday while he was with a lot of boon companions like the editors of the Williamsport Sun and Banner and Gazette and Bulletin, the Pittsburg Dispatch, Harrisburg Patriat, etc. We consider that persons who belong to the great and glorious editorial fraternity should be models for ordinary persons. We are mortified and terribly shocked at these worldly "goings on." Oh, for some missionary to send to Lock Haven to show Joe that his Sunday dissipations and reprehensible remarks as to the "flavor" of our editorials are very improper!

Personal Pencilings.

Charley Noll's swollen cheek is due to toothache.

Mrs. J. A. Woodcock, is at present visiting relatives in Altoona.

Mr. Harvey Corman, of Rebersburg, visited Bellefonte Thursday.

Ex-Senator Peale, of Lock Haven, was an arrival in town Tuesday morning.

Mr George Bush went to Lock Haven Saturday to witness the game of base ball.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ardell, of Linn St., have returned home after an enjoyable visit in Lock Haven.

Miss Van Vorhis, of Ohio, who was a school-mate of Miss Annie Meese of this place, is now her guest.

Mrs. J. Kyle McFarland, of Bellefonte, and her children are visiting relatives in this city.—L. H. Express

Misses Maggie Smith of Howard, and Grace Dunham, of Chester Pa., spent Wednesday in Bellefonte.

Miss Birdie Scanlon, who resides near this place, is now visiting her friend, Miss M. Laughling, in Altoona.

D. S. Dunham, of Howard, was in Bellefonte Tuesday. After a protracted siege of illness he is again quite well.

Mrs. Norris, wife of Col. A. Wilson Norris, the auditor general of the State, is visiting relatives in this place.

Mr. James McCafferty and wife, of Bradford, Pa., are visiting at the home of the former's father on Howard St.

Hon. L. A. Mackey, one of Lock Haven's most prominent citizens, was a welcome visitor in Bellefonte on Wednesday.

Mr. Mitchell Gardner has severed his connection with the Howard Rolling Mill Co., Lim., and is again located in Bellefonte at Meese's store.

Mr. William Jenkins and his son Harry, accompanied by Mr. John Meese, have gone to Atlantic City to look at the ebb and flow of the tide.

Mr. Eddie Richards, after a very pleasant two weeks visit at his parents' home in this place, departed on Saturday evening to resume his duties in Philadelphia.

Mr. Woomer of the Telephone Exchange spent Sunday at Tyrone and his cousin, Miss Woomer, of that place, returned to Bellefonte with him Monday morning.

We notice that Miss Platt, of New York City, a lady who is skilled in drawing and has taught several classes in this place, is again in town giving attention to the art.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Thomas, of New York city, were among the arrivals on Wednesday. Their presence here is to attend the funeral of the late Richard Thomas, this morning at 11 o'clock.

Miss Emma Hughes, one of the instructors in the Bellefonte Academy, went to New York City on Monday to visit friends. During her vacation she will select and purchase suitable apparatus for the calisthenic exercises at the Academy.

Rev. M. B. Laning and son, of Unionville, were in Bellefonte lately. We suppose the former was attending the examinations in the Bellefonte Academy in which his son is a student. The reverend gentleman is the pastor of the Unionville and Milesburg Baptist churches and is doing a very excellent work.

Mrs. M. Halderman, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Harry McCormick and Mrs. Col. A. W. Norris, all of Harrisburg, visited friends in Lewistown last week and on Saturday came from that place in a carriage to sojourn a few days among their numerous acquaintances here. They are now at the house of Hon. John Blair Linn.

Mr. George W. Thomas, of this place, departed on the train at 9.30 o'clock on Monday for Ridgway, Pa., where he will take charge of a store for the Empire Lumber Company. Mr. Thomas is an experienced merchant and the Empire Company and all who will have business at the store are to be congratulated upon securing his services.

J. H. Lever, of Stormstown, favored us with a call on Tuesday. The gentleman is one of the most prominent citizens of his community and has several times been requested to accept the Republican nomination for Sheriff, though he has never been prevailed upon to accept. It may be, however, that he is the Lever which will upset the entire weight of the Democratic majority.

—Several attempts have been made of late, in the evenings, to enter dwelling houses, though in each instance the attempt was thwarted. On Sunday or Monday evening suspicious looking persons were prowling around Mr. Jonathan Harper's residence. At another dwelling house similar suspicious looking individuals have twice been observed and frightened off. It behooves all housekeepers to be cautious.

A Suggestion.

We are not in favor of adding to the number of studies now being taught in public schools. But there is one branch of useful art, especially for girls, which has been totally neglected. We refer to that of learning how to be good housekeepers, and it is sad to realize how many young ladies of the present day are growing up totally ignorant of the most necessary accomplishment.

Why cannot the female pupils be taught to cook and sew? Perhaps a larger number of those girls who attend the public school than of any other class expect to become the wives of men who will not be able to hire servants and to whom a knowledge of housekeeping will be indispensable. But while this art is now being taught in the boarding schools to young ladies who do not expect to be compelled to make very extensive use of it, the poorer class of girls receive no such instruction.

If it could be taught in the schools of Bellefonte the effect would be quite salutary.

We know of young ladies in Bellefonte who should have some knowledge of housekeeping, but who do not. They cannot make eatable pastry, do not comprehend the first principles of dressmaking, cannot even sweep a room. Housekeeping is as useful as either Reading, Writing or Arithmetic, and is surely a thousand times more valuable than the first lesson in Latin in which some of the public schools indulge. With all due respect to hygiene, we believe housekeeping more important than that branch, as the woman who don't know how to keep a house in proper style causes more misery and unhappiness than even whiskey. No female deficient in knowledge of housekeeping is prepared to grow into a good and useful woman.

A Trip to the Northwest.

Mr. James Milliken just returned from the northwest. While in Nebraska he had the pleasure of meeting and conversing with Rev. John Hewitt, rector of the Episcopal church at Fremont. Indeed, he rode in the cars all the way from Omaha to Fremont with him. Rev. Mr. Hewitt had been to Omaha and was unaware of Mr. Milliken's presence in the cars until after he had entered. As their relations while in Bellefonte had been very intimate the meeting proved to be a delightful one to both of them.

Mr. Milliken found the reverend gentleman in an enthusiastically happy state of mind and looking better, physically, than ever before. Rev. Mr. Hewitt was so fortunate as to sell land belonging to the Episcopal church and purchase other land for the site of a church, the transaction leaving a cash balance sufficient to erect an edifice worth about $20,000.

He has been instrumental in organizing four or five other Episcopal churches near Fremont and the entire church in Northern Nebraska has been placed in his charge by the Bishop. This is what renders Rev. Mr. Hewitt in such an ecstatic state of mind at present.

Besides he assured Mr. Milliken that his family are in excellent health and that Charley has a most excellent and remunerative position in the employ of an electric lighting company.

—George Auker, who was severely wounded while defending the house of Peter Hawn in Juniata township, Huntingdon county, from robbers, on Thursday morning last, is still living, though it is believed he cannot possibly recover Galbraith, one of the robbers, who was so seriously wounded, is also living. He has confessed the name of the man still at large, although the name has not yet been made public.

—Mr. Isaac Guggenheimer is said to be encouraging all the young people to "fly their kites," and some of the kites are decidedly pretty. By the way, kite flying seems to a lost art. It was very popular with young folks a few years ago and it is certainly a highly elevating amusement at all times, when successfully performed.

—Some young men who should be spanked and put to bed selected the barn of John F. Konkle, the burgess of Montoursville, for a target the other day, and fired away at it. But in doing so the bullet passed through the board wall and seriously wounded the burgess who happened to be inside.

—People who pass either on foot or in conveyances over the railroad track near the station are inexcusably careless. Many narrow escapes occur because a proper outlook for approaching cars is disregarded. Perhaps, too, the men on the train are not as careful as they should be.

—Thirty-five or forty young men attended the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Sunday afternoon and it was one of the most spirited meetings yet held. Mr. C. U. Hoffer presided at the piano and Mr. G. E. Schaeffer played the cornet, adding greatly to the effect.

MARRIED.

CRAFT—FYE.—On the 19th of June, 1887, by D. H. Yeager, J. P., at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. Thomas Edward Craft and Miss Jennie C. Fye, both of Burnside township.

BROWN—ROCKEY.—At the Reformed parsonage, Jacksonville, on the 7th of June, by Rev. D. O. Shoemaker, Henry Brown and Julia Rockey, both of Hublersburg.

SMELTZER—CORL.—On the 9th instant, by Rev. W. H. Groh, Mr. Clyde Smeltzer, of Potter township, and Miss Elmira Corl, of Ferguson township.
